East swing bridge repair saga continues

Dave Rogers
For The Record

After three weeks of being closed to roadway traffic, the East Roundbunch swing bridge was being repaired and a new master control panel tested by technicians Tuesday afternoon.

The outlook for reopening was good and it can't come soon enough for Peggy Albair.

Her restaurant, Peggy's Place, is at the north end of the popular shortcut from Texas Avenue in Bridge City to the plants on Chemical Row, also known as FM 1006.

The bridge, which used to bring Albair a packed-house lunch and dinner business, has been mostly closed since early in 2017.

"It's affected my business tremendously," she said. "If they'd have built a big bridge, we wouldn't be having this problem."

The swing bridge's roadway that crosses the Cow Bayou is built on a center pier and rotates horizontally to a 90-degree angle to allow barge traffic to pass.

It is operated from a non-moving control room at the center of the bridge, with the touch of a button.

Or at least that's the way it works when it's working, according to Orange County Engineer Corey Oldbury.

It was working pretty consistently in April, when it was opened 90 times (3 per day) to let

3rd Coast 10K Relay 'builds city'

Dave Rogers
For The Record

The folks at 3rd Coast Movement are stepping out in a big way for Bridge City.

The personal fitness training center is holding a Team 10K Relay fundraiser Saturday, beginning at 9 a.m. at its location at 300 E. Roundbunch Road.

From two to 10 runners can be on a team, with an entry fee of $20 each due the day of the event.

Proceeds are going to a Public Outdoor Recreation Project for Bridge City.

"We do an annual 10K run just to give back to the community," says Maggie James, a fitness coach at 3rd Coast.

"Last year, we did one to help a veteran fix his house from Hurricane Laura. We wanted to do something bigger that can be enjoyed by the whole community this year."

Chris Auster and his wife, Carrie Pugh Auster, own the business which has operated since 2011. James and Andreas De La Puente are fitness coaches.

"We set out to create a way of fitness that fits into people's lives, honors them as individuals, and puts them around people who love to have a laugh while getting fit," the owners said.

"Eleven years later, we offer the most health- and wellness-focused small group sessions, personal training and nutrition consulting in Southeast Texas.

"We know that fitness is hard work and have an expert guide you is key. It is our life's work and passion to be that guide for you."

Chris Auster has more than 10 years' experience in one-on-one and small group training and is a CrossFit Level 3 instructor. He also has certifications in nutrition, mobility and weightlifting.

Carrie Pugh Auster is a CrossFit Level 2 instructor and Nutrition Level 2 coach also certified to teach CrossFit Kids and CrossFit Gymnastics.

'Science Superstars' fundraiser earns scholarships through Hoke foundation

Margaret Toal
For The Record

Fun science experiments aren't usually listed as entertainment for a gala event, but they are fitting to honor the late science teacher Michael Hoke.

Science Superstars demonstrations will be part of the fundraising gala for the Michael W. Hoke Foundation on July 23 at the Shahan Events Center of LSCO.

Robert Hoke, son of Michael, said his family established the foundation to award scholarships to students seeking careers in teaching science or environmental education at Lamar University in Beaumont. Michael Hoke received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Lamar.

Robert Hoke said investment interest from the donation the family gave is used each year to award a memorial scholarship. He hopes that by raising more money for the endowment, more, and bigger, scholarships can be awarded.

Robert Hoke is seen with his father the late Mike Hoke of Orange. Science Superstars demonstrations will be part of the fundraising gala for the Michael W. Hoke Foundation on July 23.

Sponsorship tables are currently being offered for sale. Individual tickets are $100 each. The gala will have a dinner catered by Old Orange Cafe along with silent auctions. Donations for the silent auctions are also being accepted. Tickets can be reserved through the Michael W. Hoke Foundation website.

Donations without buying a ticket can also be made through the website. Robert Hoke said donations to the foundation have been made online.

Those donations should not be a surprise as a way to honor a man who spent nearly half a century teaching kids about science and nature.

Hoke taught many years at the West Orange-Cove middle school and established the Nature Classroom along Adams Bayou. A pontoon boat took students from Lions City Park to the wooded "classroom" along the bayou at Park Avenue.

Judge Gothia to be roasted, toasted Aug. 4

Margaret Toal
For The Record

Seven years have passed since Bridge City had a good roasting and as the summer of 2022 grows into a scorcher, it's County Judge John Gothia who is going to face the heat.

On August 4, the Bridge City Chamber of Commerce is having a "celebrity roast" of the head of county government. "Tables are going fast," said Chamber Director Mandy Lyda.

Gothia is a longtime Bridge City resident who has been active in the Orange and Bridge City chambers of commerce before successfully running for Precinct 3 County Commissioner. When the county judge resigned suddenly, Gothia was appointed to the position and then won election.

Gothia was instrumental in getting Bassmaster and other professional fishing tournaments to Orange County; so the audience should expect some fish jokes.

This will be the tenth celebrity roast fundraiser for the Bridge City chamber and the first since 2015, when Bridge City Mayor Kirk Roccaforte took the jokes and teasing.

Gary Stelly of kogt.com will serve as master of ceremonies for the event. Roasters will be Precinct 1 County Commissioner Johnny Trahan; Ida Schossow, head of the Greater Orange Area Chamber of Commerce and a neighbor of Gothia; David Jones, owner of Gopher Industrial; and banker Joe Love.

Lyda said sponsor tables are $600 to seat eight. Individual tickets are $65. The event will be at 6 p.m. August 4 at the Bridge City Community Center off West Roundbunch Road. Tickets include dinner and adult beverages.

Gothia joins an exclusive group of roastees. The Bridge City Chamber's first celebrity roast was of lawyer H.D. Pate in 1996.

Then came State Representative Ron Lewis in 1997, and noted Cajun W.T. Oliver in 1998.

Lyda said the chamber then skipped a couple of years and in 2000 roasted Lester "Buckshot" Winfree. Ninth Court of Appeals Judge Don Burgess was in the hot seat in 2002. A few years went by for the next one in 2009 with then-County Judge Carl Thibodeaux honored. Gisela Houseman was roasted in 2011, Ross Smith in 2013, and Roccaforte in 2015.

Tickets and tables can be reserved through the Bridge City chamber at 409-735-5671, or email Lyda at director@bridgcitycoc.com.

OC sales tax revenue mixed in latest report

Margaret Toal
For The Record

Sales across Orange County were mixed in April with some cities seeing a slight drop in sales tax revenues for the month. The Texas Comptroller's Office announced the payments this past week.

The city of Orange had the biggest overall increase in sales taxes, while Orange County also saw an increase. Bridge City had a slight drop for the month, but is still ahead for the year to date.

According to the U.S. Department of Labor Statistics, the inflation rate for April was at 8.3 percent. Consumers will pay more sales taxes as prices go up. However, the state, cities, and the county do not collect sales taxes on gasoline and fuels. Those items have separate taxes.

Payments sent to the entities that collect sales taxes are:

The city of Bridge City with a 1.5 percent sales tax collected $162,478 for the month, a decrease of 1.98 percent from $165,773 collected during April 2021. The city is up a healthy 8.9 percent for the year to date with a total of $1.13 million compared to $1.04 million last year.

The city of Orange with a 1.5 percent sales tax saw 29.36 percent in sales tax receipts for April 2022. The city received $705,964 compared to $545,700 last year. The city's total for the year to date is $3.9 million, or 14.64 percent more than the $3.4 million last year.

Pinehurst has a 1.5 percent sales tax and has slight drops for the month and for the year to date.

The city collected $54,350 for April, a drop of 4.62 percent from $56,983 last year. For the year to date, the city has collected $334,484 compared to $351,706 last year, a decrease of 4.61 percent.

The city of Vidor has a 1.5 percent sales tax and received $266,495 for the month of April, a decrease of 4.40 percent from $278,780 in April last year. For the year to date, the city is down slightly with $1.75 million total compared to $1.76 million last year.

barges come to and fro, mostly business for the Knife River road materials site alongside Highway 87 and Cow Bayou, or Burton Shipyard, which is just around a turn in the bayou from Peggy's Place.

In May, the bridge was opened 66 times for barges.

Over the off-and-on course of five years, the Texas Department of Transportation tore down and replaced the swing bridge after engineers had ruled it unsafe.

Weather (three natural disaster hurricanes and tropical storms) and the COVID-19 shutdown interrupted work on what was expected to be a $9 million replacement and mechanical updating of the bridge.

The last cost listed was $11 million.

TxDOT initially tried to get Orange County to take possession of the bridge in 2021, but a series of problems closing the gate automatically delayed the OK by OC.

"We all know that bridge is a lemon," Orange County Commissioner Johnny Trahan declared when the subject came up at a commissioners court meeting in December 2021.

"If we had taken ownership of this bridge three months ago, we'd have been out way in excess of several hundred thousand dollars just to keep this bridge open," Orange County Judge John Gothia said then.

Oldbury didn't disagree. "I really don't feel it's in our best interest to have this bridge, but we're stuck with it," he said.

At its best, it still costs the county about $150 to $200 in labor costs each time it opens and shuts the bridge.

A Road & Bridge worker is on call 24/7 to drive to the bridge and push the buttons and each time they answer the call, the county pays them four hours of salary, Oldbury said.

When the swing bridge would almost close, leaving an unsafe gap, the county had to send a crew of four to manually close it.

But things had been going well this spring. Until they didn't.

"We've had some problems, but we've never had to shut it down for weeks like we have this month," Oldbury said. "This was much worse."

And the cause of the June 2022 shutdown?

"A person on property near ours was clearing some land, they hit a tree, it went into some power lines and bounced up and hit a high line. So we had 69,000 volts go through a transformer and it blew the main brainbox of the bridge," he told County Commissioners on June 14. "Talk about a snakebit project. This is a snakebit project," Trahan said.

"There have been a lot of questions why we didn't replace this bridge some other way," Gothia said. "It was not our choice. It was not our option. This bridge is an historical bridge. It had to be replaced as it was because it's listed by the Texas Historical Commission."

But is it? A spokesman for the Texas Historical Commission told The Record last Friday that there were only two swing bridges listed in the state, and only one is in Orange County.

That would be the Cow Bayou swing bridge on Texas 87, about a mile and a half east of the East Roundbunch Bridge.

The bridge on Texas 87 was opened in 1940. Clark Slacum, Oldbury's predecessor as County Engineer, told reporter Margaret Toal the East Roundbunch was constructed in Orange County in 1961, after being moved from another location.

"If TxDOT would take over the (E. Roundbunch) bridge, that would be super," Oldbury said.

"They do have FM 1442 across 87 halfway down East Roundbunch to Osborne. That's where it stops being TxDOT's road and begins being ours."

The Bridge City Chamber of Commerce has announced that Global Green Insurance Agency has been named Business of the Month for June 2022. Emily Siau was presented the award, sponsored by Energy Country Ford, by Ambassador Candace Mulhollan at the June Networking Coffee hosted by MCT Credit Union. Texas judge won't let prosecutor cancel scheduled execution

JOLIE MCCULLOUGH
The Texas Tribune

A Texas state district judge on Tuesday rejected a prosecutor's request to cancel the scheduled October execution of John Ramirez, whose death last year was halted in part of a yearslong back-and-forth between the Texas prison system and the U.S. Supreme Court over religious rights of condemned prisoners.

Nueces County District Attorney Mark Gonzalez sought to have the execution canceled, saying one of his employees wrongfully asked a court to set the date in April, after the nation's high court directed the state prison system to let the prisoner's pastor touch and pray over him at his execution. Gonzalez said he is ethically opposed to the death penalty and did not want an execution warrant for Ramirez issued.

Along with Ramirez's defense attorney, he sought to withdraw the new execution date two days after it was requested.

But in a Zoom hearing Tuesday, state District Judge Bobby Galvan said Gonzalez is "the captain of the ship," and what his staff does is on him.

"I've really thought about this a lot," Galvan said. "I respect y'all's opinion on this, but I'm not going to withdraw the warrant."

Gonzalez argued that, as the county's elected prosecutor, he has the authority to request the cancellation.

"The main issues in this motion, your honor, are that the only legitimate voice for the state of Texas would be my office," he said.

After the ruling, Ramirez's attorney, Seth Kretzer, said it was unprecedented for a judge to deny a motion to withdraw a death warrant that has the support of the prosecution and the defense. Ramirez, 37, was sentenced to death in Corpus Christi for the robbery and murder of store clerk Pablo Castro in 2004. Court records state Ramirez stabbed Castro 29 times during a robbery.

James and De La Puente are both CrossFit Level 2 instructors and James is credentialed for CrossFit Kids and CrossFit Gymnastics.

"We call our project 'Build Your City' and every fundraiser we have will go toward that until we get the money we need," Chris Auster said.

Auster makes the 10K relay event, a distance equivalent of 6.2 miles, sounds easy.

"If anybody has ever walked, jogged or run a 5K, you can do this," he said.

"Some people have leg problems, so they can row, bike or ski ERG instead."

HOT-HOT AND MORE HEAT

We could very well break heat records this week with temperatures climbing to 103. We need rain bad but none is in sight. Things in the garden will burn up but the heat is also a danger for people with the heat index over 105. Stay cool. Come along, I promise it won't do you no harm.

JANUARY 6 HEARING CONTINUES

All the evidence presented has shown how overwhelmingly guilty Donald Trump is. Holding Trump accountable and disqualifying him from future office would not be a partisan act but one needed to preserve the Republic. As Judge Luttig put it at Thursday's hearing, the clear and present danger now is because "to this very day the former president and his allies and supporters pledge that in the presidential election in 2024, if the former president or his anointed successor as the Republican Party presidential candidate were to lose that election, they would attempt to overturn that 2024 election in the same way that they attempted to overturn the 2020 election."

Cowboy Church Trail Boss Turns Over Reins

Pastor Dale Lee is turning over the reins to another trail boss at the Cowboy Church of Orange County, when his retirement becomes effective June 30. The Cowboy Church of Orange County first met as a congregation on October 14, 2007, in a big blue-roofed horse barn on Hwy 62. By 2009, the church's growth supported the construction of the 6000 sq ft structure at 673 FM 1078 where it meets today, on land donated by the Harris family. The church has since built an arena, and doubled the main building square footage in 2019 with the addition of a children's building. CCOC Arena serves the community with weekly Team Roping Practice open to the public. Cowboy Church of Orange County Children's Church sponsors both a yearly Truck or Treat and Easter Egg Hunt, all free and open to everyone. The community is invited to Pastor Dale's retirement celebration at 2 p.m. on Sunday, June 26 at the church. Boots and hats welcome, but never required! Pastor Dale has done to ride the range with. As he heads to the sunset, may all his days be good ones. We have all been blessed with his presence.

TURNING BACK THE HANDS OF TIME

15 Years Ago-2007

We send congratulations to Judge Pat and Rosalie on the birth of their seventh grandchild. Abigail Elizabeth Clark arrived Monday, June 11, in Houston. The little lady clocked in at 7 pounds, 1 ounce and was 19 inches tall. She is the fourth child for Pat Jr. and Rachel. They have one set of twins. Pat Jr.'s mother is also a twin, with sister Mary Ann, so the tradition continues. For now, Abigail is the star of the show. *Saturday morning early, we went down to the Bridge City Farmer's Market. Among the many people loading up with fresh produce was Sid Caillvet, Jr. and Peggy, who did a good amount of buying. She had to pull money out of Sid, one dollar at a time. *The gal having the most fun, however, was Barbara Winfree, who was a vender of fresh corn, unique squash, shelled peas etc. She wasn't wearing her famous necklace from 'Buckshot' around her neck. I didn't realize she could be so hot of life at 6:45 a.m. *What's the odds that a county would have two Roy Dunn's and both of their first-born's would be named Mark? Margaret Toal is publishing a story on Judge Dunn's son, who is now Dr. Mark Dunn and Roy and Phyl's Mark will soon be the father of a doctor. *I know exactly where I was 50 years ago, June 26, 1957, when Hurricane Audrey came ashore. It was such a disaster at Cameron and surrounding areas that words just can't really describe it. Death was everywhere. Thousands of cattle and other animal carcasses were strewn all around. People were killed by the hundreds. It just doesn't seem that it was that long ago. Lester 'Buckshot' Winfree celebrates a birthday June 24. *Our good friend, Mary Alice Cole Hartsfield, celebrated her birthday on Sunday. Ruth Graham, 87, wife of Rev. Billy Graham, was laid to rest Sunday, June 27. Andy Cokinos died June 13. He was born Sept. 1, 1921. We knew Andy well. He did to ride the range with. Tyler and Ashley Bearden are expecting their first born on Wednesday, June 20 I believe that will be Carlis and Brad Roy's first grandchild and the fourth for the Sharon Bearden family. A pair of twins and two singles. Bridge City's Johnny Dishon played for the South 3-A All Stars Saturday at Round Rock, in the Coach's All Star game. Dishon got a single for an RBI and was walked with the bases loaded. A pitcher error scored the runners on second and third. Johnny scored from third on a hit and the South won 7-2. *In the 4-A, 5-A All Star game, LCM's Jake Rowell had the hit that drove in the winning run.

The South won 7-6. A good day for the South and our Orange County boys.

45-Years Ago-1977

Hank Eckhardt named Police Chief at Bridge City, replacing Chief Wilson Roberts. Word going around is that Roberts will become an investigator for District Attorney Sharon Bearden. *The Bridge City Rotary Club installs officers H.D. Pate, president, Rev. Don Richey, Bill Weisman and Rev. Ed Robinson, vice-presidents and Bill Nacol, sergeant-at-arms. Directors are Robert (Bobby) Cormier, Jim Moss, Lynn Emerson, C.W. (Bubba) Hubbard. Lew Malcolm, from Orange Rotary, installed the new officers. Outgoing president Roy Dunn will serve on the board. Sharon and Bill Peveto are owners of Bridge City Rental. Larry Ward and Bill Godwin are new owners of Bridge City Building Supply, formerly Fields Lumber. *When Ed and Joan Lovelace returned from California, they received the news that Joan's mother had suffered a heart attack. Paul Wise is the new manager of Kresge's. He hails from Fort Smith, Arkansas. Benny Mazzola is named temporary chairman of the new Orange Optimist Club. *Three water district employees resign. Dist. Mgr. Clarence Buford, asst. mgr. Walter Dupuis and sec. Helen Burrow all quit. Other employees are expected to follow. It's not clear what the dispute was that led to the resignation of those longtime employees. Doris Land has joined Mary Callahan as dispatcher for the Bridge City Fire Department. Mary Patillo is named by Judge Grover Halliburton to replace her husband, Buck as president of the Orange County Senior Citizen Chapter. Sweet Patsy Fisette is in Orange Memorial for treatment of arthritis (Editor's note: Patsy passed away several years ago. She was a wonderful lady. As far as we know her longtime husband Harold is still around town).

50 Years Ago-1972

James Watson Colvin, II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim 'Rocky' Colvin, was born a couple weeks ago on May 24, weighing in at 8 lbs., 1 oz. Rocky is a former NFL pro football player. Today, in 1972, Rocky is sales manager for Butler-Baker Motors in Orange. I wonder what became of that baby, now 50 years old. I've also lost track of Rocky. Does anyone know his whereabouts? If so let us know. Bridge City High school athletes run a thank you ad in the OVN. It reads, "Thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Godwin for allowing us to share a vacation trip with you. It was an experience we will never forget." The ad was signed by Mike Hill, Mike VanBreeman, Chuck Majors, Mark Dunn, Lanston Fall and Danny Blacksher. I remember every one of these great youngsters. All 65 youngsters who attended the FCA Conference in Colorado, back home spreading the Word about Christianity stand apart. God offers everyone a turning point. Mark Dunn, Bridge City athlete and journalist student wrote a long article titled, "A Special Kind of Man," with pictures of the Estes Park, Colorado FCA trip. *Eleven-hundred attended the conference, high school, college, pro athletes and coaches from around the nation. Inspiring speeches were shared by Coach Tom Landry and 30 other speakers. All American athletes are quoted in Dunn's column. This article, 50 years later, would be worth reprinting. Coach Chief Wilson announced new coaches for Bridge City. Van Wilhelm, backfield coach and Don Calvert, who will be head basketball coach will work with ends in football. Troy Woodall, former basketball coach, will head up physical education at Hatton Elementary. Wilhelm, 26, played high school football for Wilson at Amarillo. He was head football coach at Hooker, Oklahoma.

100 Years Ago-1922

Just for kicks, lets see what was happening in 1922. Eight buses carried workers from Orange to the oilfields. Oilmen crowded local hotels. The Holland Hotel used cots in the lobby. The population of the city of Orange jumped from 10,000 to over 20,000 overnight. General John Pershing traveled in a special car to inspect the Orange oilfield. Sheriff Helton built a special jail just for the oilfield. The first plank was set for the Orange oilfield plank road, to be built. The Orange oilfield received worldwide fame. Rev. Billy Sunday staged a bout with the devil in Orange County. Branch Richey and his St. Louis Cardinals held a week of spring training in Orange. *Bread prices dropped from seven cents a loaf, to a nickel a loaf. Orange Mayor Bill Lea and Police Chief Denmon declared war on criminals. Orange was warned to watch for arrivals, by boxcars, from the Mexia oilfields. Gov. Neff declared Martial Law on Mexia. The outlaws were expected at the Orange oilfield when it was discovered that several hundred railroad tickets were purchased from Mexia to Orange. Sheriff Helton denied that Texas Rangers were needed. *The Orange oilfield boom is in full swing. One of the colorful men that become rich overnight was Oscar Chesson. The owner of a 46-acre track turned down a half-million dollars for his land. He turned down the offer because he had two sick pigs and he didn't want to clear out 15 goats. 'The Wonder Well,' Humble's Chesson #5, produces 15,000 barrels of oil a day. His income is $3,000 a day (Editor's note: it's an interesting story which we have run before and might do so again in the future). *Meanwhile, Sheriff Helton denied that a request for Texas Rangers, made by County Attorney R. Lee Davis and Sol White, was needed. Helton said he needs more cooperation and less criticism. All was well until the Sheriff and Davis met in the Holland Hotel Barber Shop. Helton allegedly gave Davis a tongue lashing. Davis filed a complaint against the Sheriff for abusive language. That brought charges against Davis that the County Attorney had accepted $7 from Charles Luke for dismissing a case. He challenged Davis to refute the statement. Davis did by asking everyone to read the Twenty-Eighth Psalm of the Holy Bible (Editor's Note: Those were interesting and colorful times when 'Black Gold' was discovered at the Orange oilfield).

A FEW HAPPENINGS

Father Joseph Daleo is retiring after 25 years as pastor of St. Mary Church and 51 years as a priest. The church will have a reception for him Sunday, June 26, from 5 to 7 p.m. in the Parish Hall. *I heard Shirley Zimmerman was in town last week. They have been staying in Oklahoma but still have their home here. *Tax Assessor Karen Fisher loves taking cruises. She just returned from her yearly trip. John and Joyce Dubose attended a week long convention in Galveston. It was like a vacation for Joyce, John, a workaholic, hasn't overdone vacations in their many years of marriage. *People celebrating anniversaries this week included Wendy and Billy Young, who marked 35 years of marriage on Monday. Also Renee and Larry Fisher had their 35th on the same day. The Fishers have been traveling the East Coast and enjoying cool ocean breezes in Maine while eating lobster. Another stop included Newport, Rhode Island, and the fabulous Vanderbilt summer home The Breakers. *Here's a sport's trivia I bet Coach Josh Smalley didn't know. Dizzy Dean and brother Paul both were pitching for the St. Louis Cardinals. Once after Dizzy pitched a one-hitter in the first game of a double header, Paul went one better by tossing a no-hitter in the nightcap. Dizzy told the press, "Shucks, if I'd known Paul was gonna pitch a no-hitter, I'd pitched one too." In the 1934 World Series, Dizzy was asked how the Cardinals would fare against the Detroit Tigers. Dean replied, "Me and Paul will win two games apiece." The Cards won games 1, 2, 6 and 7 all games pitched by the Dean brothers to take the series 4 games to 3. They are the only brothers to ever win all games in the World Series. Now, if you'll ask Josh he will say he knew that. *I understand Coach Sam Moore is back living in Bridge City but still coaching in Sulphur. His team had a great year and made it all the way to state baseball finals. Gary and Allisha Bonneaux are trading the heat and humidity of Orange for the heat and humidity of tropical forests in Costa Rica. They've seen a lot of wildlife, the flora a fauna type, including sloths. A visit to a chocolate factory was included. Pam Frederick Williams managed to get a visit to Yellowstone National Park for four days before the devastating flood damaged parts of it. Trips to Jackson Hole and Cody, Wyoming, were also part of her itinerary. West Orange Alderman Lanie Brown and Elizabeth McCarty have done more than travel through Egypt looking at pyramids. Their adventures have included a hot air balloon ride over the Valley of the Kings, snorkeling in the Red Sea, and riding camels on Wednesday for a true "hump day." Orange City Councilor Caroline Hennigan along with husband Mike Hennigan escaped the city heat for gulf breezes at their Crystal Beach cabin.

BREAUX BIRTHDAYS

A few folks we know celebrating birthdays in the next few days. June 22: Hppy birthday to Paul Richardson, Gean Hammett, Caitlin Wells and Charlene Braus. June 23: Folks celebrating today are Ken Johnson, Sissy Braus and Jaden Trahan. June 24: Dwayne's better half, Kathy Marsh, celebrates today. Also sharing birthdays are Blake Amy, Elise Becker, Amanda Adams and Barbara Garza. June 25: They youngest of Mark's grandchildren, Rowan Knox Greeson, is two-years-old today. Happy Birthday also today to Gary Stelly, Chris Humble, Cher Becker and Linda Taylor. CAJUN STORY OF THE WEEK

Gostoe Thibodeaux walked into Tee-Boy's Bar & Grill and took himself a seat at da bar next to a very attractive woman. He gave her a quick glance den he causally looked at his watch for a moment.

Agnes, da pretty woman, axe, "Is your date running late?"

"No," Gostoe replied, "Me, I jus got dis state-of-da-art watch and I was jus testing it."

Agnes, her was intrigued and she say, "A state-of-da-art watch?" "Wat's so special about it, hanh?"

Gostoe Thibodeaux explained, "Well, it's like dis, it uses Alpha waves to talk to me telepatically."

Agnes axe, "Well, wats it telling you now?"

"Well, Babe, it says you're not wearing any panties."

Agnes, she giggled and wearing a big smile, replied, "Well, it must be broken because me, I'm wearing panties."

Thibodeaux smiled, taped his watch four or tree times and said, "Dis damn ting's an hour fast."

DPS Director says officers in Uvalde could have taken down gunman within 3 minutes had commander not hesitated

Department of Public Safety Director Steve McCraw testifies before the Texas Senate committee on June 21, 2022. PHOTO: Jordan Vonderhaar for The Texas Tribune

ZACH DESPART
The Texas Tribune

Department of Public Safety Director Steve McCraw told a state Senate committee Tuesday that the law enforcement response to the Uvalde school shooting was an “abject failure” and police could have stopped the shooter at Robb Elementary School three minutes after arriving were it not for the indecisiveness of the on-scene commander, who placed the lives of officers before those of children.

McCraw said the inexplicable conduct by Uvalde school district police Chief Pete Arredondo was antithetical to two decades of police training since the Columbine High School massacre, which dictates that officers confront active shooters as quickly as possible.

“The officers had weapons; the children had none,” McCraw said. “The officers had body armor; the children had none. The officers had training; the subject had none. One hour, 14 minutes and 8 seconds. That’s how long children waited, and the teachers waited, in Room 111 to be rescued.”

The revelations detailed by McCraw completed a remarkable shift in the police response narrative state officials have given since the May 24 shooting. Twenty-seven days after Gov. Greg Abbott said the shooting “could have been worse” but for officers who showed “amazing courage by running toward gunfire,” his state police director described stunning police incompetence that bordered on cowardice.

Arredondo, who testified in closed session to a House committee on Tuesday, told The Texas Tribune that after he and another officer determined the doors to the adjoining classrooms containing the shooter were locked, the best course of action was to wait for more officers, firepower, keys and a breaching tool.

McCraw laid out a starkly different set of facts: That officers with rifles arrived within minutes and the classroom doors could not have been locked from the inside. Reporting by The Tribune revealed that ballistic shields and a breaching tool, called a Halligan bar, were also quickly on scene.

McCraw said though the state police are a far larger agency than the six-person Uvalde Consolidated Independent School District department, Arredondo was the rightful incident commander because he was the most senior first responder who had immediate jurisdiction over the district’s campuses. He said Arredondo could have transferred command to another agency, such as state troopers who arrived, but never did so.

Acting against the orders of an incident commander during an emergency can be dangerous and chaotic, McCraw said, responding to a question about why his troopers did not take charge. But he said the failure of one police agency means all law enforcement performed unacceptably that day.

“I don’t mean to be hyper-critical of the on-scene commander,” McCraw said. “But those are the facts... this set our profession back a decade.”

Local motorcycle groups hosts '500 For Life'

The local chapter of Cowboy H.O.G. is sponsoring a rally on Saturday, June 25, to promote motorcycle safety and awareness. The rally being called 500 for Life will start in Orange at the Community Church and conclude at the Cowboy Harley Davidson dealership in Beaumont. Cowboy Harley Davidson is co-sponsoring the event along with Columbanus Motor Sports of Orange.

Van Jordan the director for Cowboy H.O.G. Chapter 4974 of the Golden Triangle came up with the idea of 500 for Life. "We're trying to bring awareness to everybody that's here in the Golden Triangle and the United States about watching out for motorcycles because even though we're a little entity on the road we're a big part of the road because we ride not just every other day, we ride every day, 365, the whole year round," Jordan emphasized.

Harley Owners Group or H.O.G. are motorcyclists working to spread the word of caution to motorists driving automobiles for them to be aware of motorcycles to help save lives. They recommend the slogan adopted years ago by the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) in its annual campaign "Share the Road: Look Twice for Motorcycles" which calls attention to the safety precautions motorists must take to protect motorcyclists.

Jordan said the various H.O.G. chapters are partners with M.A.D.D., Mothers Against Drunk Drivers, and TxDOT to promote safety for motorcycles. The bottom line Jordan pointed out is there are too many deaths involving motorcycle accidents in Texas and in the nation.

New era begins as Hiawatha Hickman starts tenure as Mustang A.D.

DAN PERRINE
For The Record

A new era in West Orange-Stark Mustang football begins this year with Hiawatha Hickman as the athletic director and head football coach. West Orange-Stark has the highest winning percentage in Texas high school football, and Coach Hickman looks to continue the tradition and improve it.

Hickman, age 46, grew up in Silsbee where he played and coached football for the Tigers against the Mustangs during three decades. He replaces Cornel Thompson who stepped down as the athletic director and head football coach at the end of last year.

Upon his graduation from Silsbee High School Hickman attended McMurry University in Abilene, Texas. He played in the defensive line at McMurry from 1994 to 1998 and was a two-time all-conference defensive tackle there.

After graduating from McMurry University Hickman returned to Silsbee where he served from 1999 to 2015 first as the defensive line coach before being elevated in 2006 to the defensive coordinator position for ten years.

In 2016 Hickman got the call from West Orange-Stark to come coach under then head coach Cornel Thompson. "I had known Coach Thompson for years coaching against him and playing against him. He said he tried to hire me when he was at Palestine, he tried to hire me here, so when the head coaching job at Silsbee did not go my way I decided to come over here and take the D-Line job with Coach Thompson," Hickman indicated.

The move to West Orange-Stark proved to be a learning experience. Coach Hickman explained, "You come to a place like this you can't help but learn from a guy like Coach Thompson. He taught me so much." Hickman also earned his Master's Degree after coming to West Orange-Stark.

The timing was great for Hickman and the Mustangs. Hickman reminded, "It just happened to be probably the best football group they've ever had here, and I was fortunate to come in and coach some really good defensive linemen, win a state championship, and play in another state championship game which was a great move, great for my career."

Cornel Thompson announced in December 2021 he would be retiring from his position as athletic director and head football coach for West Orange-Stark. The West Orange-Cove Consolidated Independent School District Board of Trustees then opened the position up for applicants, and Hickman applied.

Superintendent Dr. Rickie Harris announced Hickman as the lone finalist on January 20, 2022. The Board of Trustees approved Harris' recommendation of Hickman as the new athletic director at their meeting four days later.

Achieving the position of athletic director was a career goal for Hickman although at first he was not considering applying for the job. "I had built some collateral with people in the building, and the superintendent and my principal said you need to get in on this. I applied and it just kind of started going my way and when I looked up I was a finalist for the job," Hickman recalled.

Hickman's first reaction to being named the lone finalist by Superintendent Dr. Harris was ecstatic. "Then as I settled down a little bit I realized I'm fixing to take over the winningest football program in the state of Texas. But you know football is football. You've just got to keep doing what we're doing and try to take things a little bit forward. I'd be a fool to come in here and try to change this thing," Hickman admitted.

The timeline for Hickman to take on the role full-time shows he will transition from serving as assistant principal and coach at the high school through June 2022. Beginning July 1 Hickman will take on the Athletic Director and Head Football Coach position full-time for West Orange-Stark. Hickman will become the fourth Athletic Director/Head Football Coach in the 46-year history of the Mustangs.

The bottom line Hickman points to for continued success by the Mustangs in football are the players. Hickman stated, "My number one thought and this won't change ever is as long as these kids here in West Orange walk through these doors you're going to have a chance to win. People all over the state of Texas know that. It's my job to try to take this program forward."

Talent is never a problem for the Mustangs on the football field. Getting the kids motivated to play hard and their best is an assignment Hickman and his coaches will tackle this summer and into the new season. "We've kind of changed the way we work out, we hired a strength and conditioning coach, we're doing some different training. With these kids it's got to vary, not the same thing every day, and that's what we've done," Hickman pointed out.

West Orange-Stark got a new artificial turf last season for Leroy D. Breedlove Field at Dan R. Hooks Stadium which the kids love to play on. The synthetic turf allows for practice on the field even when it has rained with no concern of tearing the field up prior to actual games like when it was only grass.

Another motivating factor could be the new locker room started at the field house. The decades old dressing room has been completed gutted, and Hickman is being somewhat closed mouth on details but promises it will be state of the art when completed.

A fulltime academic instructor has been hired to help the kids and motivate them with their classes. Hickman added, "This should help the kids when it comes to qualifying for college and being eligible. When our kids leave here and go to the next level it should be a smooth transition."

The ultimate goal for Hickman and his coaches are to prepare their student athletes for the rest of their lives. "We've got the bodies, we've got the athletes, now let's just train them and get them where they need to be to go to the next level, and the ones that don't go to the next level we're going to train them and teach them how to be men, teach them how to be great fathers and how to be great people," Hickman promised.

Roughly 100 kids have come out for the first two weeks of summer workouts at West Orange-Stark and seem to be buying into the new workout program started by Coach Hickman. They work with weights in the outstanding Cornel Thompson Strength and Conditioning Center located in the field house which has artificial turf making football drills possible there as well.

For the first time in over a decade the West Orange-Stark Mustangs are performing 7-on-7 drills at Dan R. Hooks Stadium. Coach Hickman believes it will help develop new quarterbacks for the Mustangs in preparation for a more up tempo offense he plans to use this football season.

The position of athletic director means Hickman is in charge of all the athletics at West Orange-Stark and that includes the girls sports too. Hickman evaluated, "That's one of the things I've been challenged with around here. We've been good at football, and one of the things we've got to do is get everything else caught up. The junior high, the girls athletics we've got to get everything on the same plane as football."

Girls have come out for the summer workouts in their largest numbers since Hickman has been at West Orange-Stark. Thirty to thirty-five girls workout on the weights at eleven o'clock after the boys have completed their workouts, and have expressed to Hickman their excitement with the exercise program being used.

Hickman is reaching out to the middle school athletes to get them involved. He has hired new personnel to teach the kids, and he looks to upgrade the facilities on the campus.

The district passed a substantial bond issue a few years ago which has led to impressive renovations being done to all of the athletic facilities. The artificial turf was installed on the football field last year.

A much larger two-level press box is being built at the football stadium. There will be elevator access to the press box that will include special seating for the school board

Van Jordan and J. W. Dalton are with Cowboy H.O.G. Chapter 4974 and encourage support of '500 for Life' rally this Saturday. RECORD PHOTO

2021. That total represents a seven percent increase over the previous year. Even though motorcycles comprise less than 2 percent of vehicles on Texas roadways, accidents involving motorcycles accounted for 12 percent of the fatalities in 2021.

The reality of the danger facing motorcyclists on the road from other vehicles has been made evident locally already this year with eight fatal accidents involving riders in the Golden Triangle. Three of the fatalities were members of Cowboy H.O.G. Chapter 4974.

Back on December 30, 2021 in Beaumont, Van Jordan's nephew Corey Stinnett, age 33, while riding his motorcycle to work was struck by a vehicle and killed. His family constructed a memorial to Corey with his motorcycle on a trailer and a plaque with the reminder Look Twice.....Save a Life.

The hope of the Stinnett family and Cowboy H.O.G. Chapter 4974 is to take the rolling memorial for Corey to different locations to share Corey's story and the impact his life had. "We feel like if it could just save one life, at that point it's been worth it, and we're hoping it will save many more to bring awareness to the real life tribute to Corey," J. W. Dalton with the local H.O.G. chapter stated.

Less than five months after Stinnett's death Wayne Prosperie of Mauriceville was killed on May 14. Prosperie was hit by a vehicle while on his motorcycle in Port Arthur.

The third fatal accident occurred near Bridge City less than a week later. William Wantuck was killed when he was riding his motorcycle to work on the morning of May 19, and he crashed with a Dodge SUV that cut in front of him on State Highway 87. The driver of the SUV also died later in the hospital.

Sandra Womack is the treasurer for Cowboy H.O.G. Chapter 4974. She has been riding motorcycles since 1999. "As the years have gone on I've noticed more people do not pay attention because they're either on their phone, they're talking to people in the car, they may be eating food, and just not paying attention," Womack observed.

The goal of 500 for Life is to bring awareness to the public of the vulnerability of motorcyclists on the road. Womack commented, "Motorcycle riders are everywhere and more and more people are now starting to ride due to the cost of gas for their vehicle so they're riding motorcycles. People just need to pay attention."

When there is a collision involving a motorcycle frequently the driver of the other vehicle responds they did not see the motorcycle. "Drivers should have the habit to look twice, make sure the way is clear, and do what you need to do to avoid hitting motorcyclists," Womack reminded.

The responsibility for safe driving is shared by the motorcyclists too. Womack said it is the duty of the motorcyclists to ride correctly, pay attention to the law, and do what they are supposed to do.

Safety classes are offered for motorcycle drivers. Jordan said they are extremely helpful in teaching traffic laws, safe motorcycle driving, and always having an escape route on your motorcycle in the case of an emergency.

Motorcyclists ride on the left side of the roadway in an attempt to be more visible to drivers looking in the side mirrors of their vehicles. "We just want people to be aware we're out there, and don't make us a fatality because we want to get home to our family just like they do," Womack concluded.

The goal is that more than 500 motorcyclists will take part with the 500 for Life motorcycle rally on Saturday, June 25, according to Dalton. "We're striving to get 500 motorcycles or three-wheelers combined to help the awareness as far as safety within our community for motorcyclists," Dalton indicated.

Response to the call for support of 500 for Life has been very good. Dalton informed, "The Columbanus dealership in Orange has partnered up, we've got people coming from Baton Rouge, Houston, Lafayette, and several other areas to come ride with us."

The plan is to ride from Orange to Beaumont joined by various law enforcement agencies. Dalton said the Orange County Sheriff's Office, the Pinehurst Police Department, the Vidor Police Department, Rose City marshals, and the Beaumont Police will take part in the rally by providing escorts.

Those interested in participating in 500 for Life should go to the Community Church on Martin Luther King Jr. Drive in Orange beginning at 8:00 AM on Saturday, June 25, to check in. A meeting for all the riders to receive a blessing will be held at 10:15 AM. Kick stands up will follow at 10:30 AM as the motorcyclists ride to the Cowboy Harley Davidson dealership off Interstate 10 at College Street in Beaumont.

There will be a program featuring special guests at Cowboy Harley when all the motorcyclists arrive there. Motorists in cars and pickups are invited to show their support by following along behind the motorcycles. Jordan reiterated, "Look Twice, Save a Life."

Plans, Premonitions, and Paying dues

OUTDOORS Capt. Chuck Uzzle For The Record

Chuck Uzzle

Very seldom, if ever, will you run into anyone who doesn't like it when everything happens just right. Fishermen especially love it when they plan for a day on the water and everything from the weather to the fish ends up working in their favor. On occasion those types of trips happen and they help to erase the memory of the bad ones from the past. For many of the folks who fish with me the hope of catching just the right day is a high priority, especially the ones that travel great distances to get here. When you base an entire trip on one day the stress of having everything go just as planned is real for both the anglers and the guide because nobody wants to make that trip home disappointed.

In order to offer up the greatest opportunities for customers most guides spend off days doing some sort of scouting, either on their own or using information from other guides they fish with. The constant up to the day reports helps to keep customer trips as productive as possible and also helps to eliminate bad water where valuable time can be lost during a charter. Every so often as a guide you owe it to yourself to get away from the same water you've been fishing and check out some other locations. Call it a hunch, call it a premonition, call it what you will, it's a great feeling when you find the kind of fish you are hoping to find and it spells success for your clients. In many cases the new productive water you find may even offer up an entirely new or different pattern than the one you had been fishing previously. Regardless of the pattern you found it now offers up another option that may be just what you need to be successful and also give you another option if you get limited by some other factors such as weather. Having a quality alternate plan in your hip pocket certainly puts a guide at ease and contributes to a more enjoyable day on the water for everyone.

A perfect example of this type of situation happened to me recently as I was scouting for an upcoming trip where my customers wanted to try and catch some redfish on fly tackle. The conditions here on Sabine and Calcasieu have been the same as everywhere else with really high water levels all over the place. High water in our marshes is not very conducive to sight fishing and that had me worried. Fortunately I was able to locate an area where several good schools of fish were actively schooling and giving up opportunities to be cast at. I spent enough time in the area to catch a couple of fish and then I left them to go check out a few more stretches of water before calling it a day and feeling good about having a solid plan.

The next day I met my anglers who had made the trip from Arizona to see some family and friends as well as go fishing. Both were very excited to chase some fish they had never caught before and were just really happy to see some different sights. It's always a pleasure to have folks on my boat who are enthusiastic and willing to learn, both anglers fit that description with room to spare. After a short boat ride we arrived at the area where the redfish had been so cooperative and just like you would hope for the plan began to unfold perfectly. Very little, if any wind, made detecting those schooling fish very easy to spot as they were already cruising the shallow water and aggressively feeding. We could not have asked for any better situation.

I climbed up on the poling platform and began to push the boat across the big flat to get us into position to take a shot at one of the schools of redfish and it didn't take long before we were rewarded for the effort. This pattern held up for a while and made it nice for everyone. Once a school would finally separate or leave it was just a matter of scanning the surface before finding another group of willing redfish to pursue. Around lunch time we were greeted with a light breeze that made the temperatures more than comfortable but a little less than ideal for casting a flyrod. Both anglers were flexible enough to pick up my spinning rods and finish out the day throwing artificial stuff with great success. The day was first rate and the game plan had worked to perfection.

Now chasing these redfish in shallow water is not for everyone, it takes some patience and a plan. Paying your dues on a poling platform in order to set your clients up with the best chance of success is an art. There are plenty of guides along the lower Texas coast who will attest to that fact. TSF Mags own Scott Sommerlatte is one of the best and he has spent a lifetime poling anglers along flats from Mexico to Florida. The art of poling a skiff and reading water is not for the lazy or those afraid of the work that must be invested to be successful. There is actually something almost elegant and gentlemanly about pushing a skiff into position for the perfect cast. Contrast the quiet and stealth like approach of the skiff to those who run fiberglass rocket ships propelled by a zillion horse outboards while steering them from a structure that looks like it was constructed by a scaffold crew and you can see where I'm coming from. Blasting into a marsh pond and herding fish up compared to truly stalking a fish is entirely different mindset. Those that embrace the poling skiff and pay their dues will know a greater sense of satisfaction than those who choose the "invasive" techniques of horsepower and altitude could ever imagine.

We have finally reached the halfway point of the year and some of the best fishing imaginable is on the horizon, unfortunately so are the crowds. Please keep a full tank of courtesy on your boat and respect the other anglers. Also if you get the opportunity take a kid fishing. No school right now means open schedules and endless opportunities to share a day on the water with a kid and introduce them to our sport. Enjoy your time out there and be safe.

and what is being called the Mustang Club that will have catered food provided for club members. Hickman hopes the press box will be ready by September.

Shortages of certain construction material caused by the global pandemic have delayed the completion of construction of the new $16 million gym. The gym will be the home for Mustang boys basketball and girls volleyball and basketball to play their games.

Completion of the gym is relying on the delivery of the needed material including doors which are only produced by one company. The doors have been back ordered for eight months to finish the building hopefully by the end of September or in October.

The gym when completed can also be used for concerts, banquets, and future graduation ceremonies at the high school. Hickman envisions future basketball tournaments being hosted at the Mustang gym. "It's going to be second to none when it comes to basketball, concerts, and other events. We'll have the overhead screen and big scoreboard. The superintendent had a vision to do this at this place. The kids are excited about it, the community is excited about it," Hickman indicated.

The outlook for the Mustangs in football is continued success under Coach Hickman, his objective is to improve the entire athletic program at West Orange-Stark. "We're trying to grow the complete program, especially on the girls side," Hickman insisted.

Hickman feels West Orange-Stark will be strong again this season in football. "Our kids are buying in to what we're doing. Scheme wise offensively we're going to bring a little bit more tempo and try to speed it up a little bit. We've got a new system in where we're going to signal plays in with no huddle and do some things like that to bring some tempo. We've got speed, that's been one of our big motto of the spring and summer is to put pressure on people. We are the pressure," Hickman concluded.

A Gardeners Best Friend: Mulch (Part 2)

JOHN GREEN
Orange County
Master Gardener

Hello fellow gardening enthusiasts! Last week I discussed organic mulch basics, including why using mulch in our gardens is important, as well as the numerous types of mulch. Some gardeners make their own mulch at home utilizing a compost bin or two, then building compost by adding yard debris, grass clippings, leaves, limbs, used potting soil, dead plant materials, livestock manure, topsoil, hay, and straw. They continue adding debris to the compost bin, building in layers of green and brown materials, then turning its' contents every few weeks allowing it to decompose over time. In 6 to 12 months the compost will have completed the decomposition cycle and a rich, dark crumbly compost will be ready to add to vegetable beds and flower gardens.

My preference is much faster, depending on the gardening project, is to purchase mulch in bags or bulk (delivered). Bags of mulch are easy to handle and can be readily moved around using a wheelbarrow or garden cart. The price for a bag of mulch is low and can often be purchased while on sale during spring and summer months at many hardware and farm supply stores. Most large box stores provide customers the option to purchase mulch and other spoil amendments in bulk (truck load) and having it delivered. If mulch is readily available, then you may ask, how do you decide which type of mulch is right for you?

Bags of mulch are easy to handle and can be readily moved around using a wheelbarrow or garden cart. The price for a bag of mulch is low and can often be purchased while on sale during spring and summer months at many hardware and farm supply stores.

Choosing the right type of mulch to use in your garden isn't a difficult decision to make and there is no wrong answer as all organic mulches will eventually provide some benefit to the soil. I'll help you navigate the most common types of mulch available and provide you some of the pros and cons of the most common mulches sold locally. Keep in mind almost any vegetative organic matter can be used as mulch. We reviewed organic mulches previously, so let's continue the discussion with synthetic mulches and where they can be used.

Rubber Mulch is heavier than wood mulches, lasting 10-20 years. It will not decompose, so there is no benefit to the soil or its microorganisms. Rubber mulches retain heat and are not the best choice for Southeast, Texas gardens. If used, you will need to fertilize more often.

Black plastic sheeting over the soil surface of your garden will retain moisture underneath from evaporating, while smothering weeds which try to sprout. Weeds will grow in areas the plastic doesn't cover. It's good for large vegetable gardens, raising the soil temperature 3-5F to a depth of about 6 inches, warming soils sooner in spring, allowing for earlier harvesting of vegetables.

Foundation Plantings a

6-inch space from your homes' foundation should remain free of plants and mulch. This will help keep insects out of the house. Placing inorganic mulches, such as pea gravel, crushed limestone, river rock, or lava rock in this area, will help to keep the area free.

Trees and Shrubs if you find it necessary to mulch around trees and shrubs, then please use mulch effectively so the plants and tree are not competing for water and nutrients resources available. Large bark, wood chips or river rock make good mulches for trees and shrubs but do not layer more than 3 inches of mulch so the tree and shrubs surface roots will not grow up into the mulch.

Flower Beds (Annuals and Perennials) utilize chopped leaves, shredded bark, and compost. Fine textured mulches which are easy to spread and incorporate are best in these areas. Apply a layer 2 -3 inches thick. Begin with a layer of compost then add one of the other mulches which provides plants the nutrients they need.

Vegetable Gardens enjoy dried grass clippings, newspaper, cardboard, compost, and hay or straw (seed and weed free of course). Once your garden is planted, lay out the newspaper/cardboard around your plants, cover with compost, then the hay or grass clippings.

Containers consider decorative glass marbles, pebbles, clay balls, or water and nutrients resources available. Large bark, wood chips or river rock make good mulches for trees and shrubs but do not layer more than 3 inches of mulch so the tree and shrubs surface roots will not grow up into the mulch.
