Courthouse gets wheelchair lift at closed ramp

MARGARET TOAL
For The Record

The 1937 Orange County Courthouse now has a wheelchair lift at the backdoor, County Maintenance Director Kurt Guidry told Commissioners Court Tuesday during a regular meeting.

Guidry said the lift was needed because of recent changes at the courthouse, which houses judicial courts, the district attorney's office, plus other county offices. The front of the courthouse has been blocked off for several years because of problems with the marble facade staying in place.

Two wings on the courthouse were added in the early 1960s. The east wing has the county clerk's office and the west wing has the district clerk's office. The back parking lot offered ramp entrances to both of those wings that allowed wheelchairs and walkers access to the main courthouse. However, those doors were recently permanently locked for more security.

The changes made the back door to the courthouse the only way into the building and it has steps. Guidry said he bought and placed a small ramp that allows people from the parking lot to go up onto the curbed sidewalk that goes between the backdoor of the courthouse and the sheriff's office.

The new wheelchair lift is at the backdoor allowing entry into the courthouse. Guidry also explained how the county has handicapped parking for vans near the backdoor.

In an update on hurricane repairs during the past few years, Guidry said bids have been awarded and work is to begin on October 10 for roof repairs to the administration building and the county jail as part of Hurricane Harvey repairs. He also said a new contractor is set to continue repairs after Hurricane Laura that include the Raymond Gould Community Center in Vidor.

Abbott demands Biden pull his student loan relief plan

MATTHEW CHOI
The Texas Tribune

Gov. Greg Abbott joined 21 Republican governors Monday urging President Joe Biden to scrap his student loan relief plan, asserting that the thousands of dollars in individual debt relief would harm the working class.

The governors wrote in a letter that the loan forgiveness plan offers a bailout for a minority of Americans who are largely well off, arguing that those "with the most debt, such as $50,000 or more, almost exclusively have graduate degrees, meaning hourly workers will pay off the master's and doctorate degrees of high salaried lawyers, doctors, and professors."

But most of those people would not be eligible for the loan relief program announced last month, which disqualifies anyone earning over $125,000. Eligible applicants are limited to $10,000 in relief, unless they are recipients of

Pell Grants, intended for low-income students, in which case they can get up to $20,000 in relief. The program also proposes a new repayment plan that caps monthly undergraduate loan payments at 5% of a borrower's discretionary income — cutting monthly payments roughly in half.

The White House justifies the program with the skyrocketing price of a college education and the increasing demand for secondary degrees to remain competitive in the job market. The typical undergraduate student who takes out loans leaves college with almost $25,000 in debt, according to the Education Department. Mounting costs of education have also discouraged thousands of

TxDOT installs caution lights on MacArthur

MARGARET TOAL
For The Record

The Texas Department of Transportation has completed the construction of sidewalks along MacArthur Drive and has installed two overhanging caution lights for pedestrian crossings. The project included adding street lights along the sides of the seven-lane roadway that is part of Texas Highway 87.

TxDOT spokeswoman Sarah Dupre said contractors and Entergy are working to run electrical lines so the lighting can be turned on.

People in Orange, along with city officials, worked with TxDOT to get lighting on the commercial strip after a mother and her child were killed while crossing on a dark night in November 2015. Ava Nicole Lewis, 25, and her

Previously, a 2-year-old girl was killed and her mother was seriously injured as they were hit in December 2011 while trying to go from Whataburger in Pinehurst to the West Orange side

MacArthur Drive itself is in the Orange city limits, though it is a state highway. The north side of the roadway is in Pinehurst and the southside is in West Orange.

The overhanging caution lights will blink yellow and have road signs instructing drivers to yield to pedestrians. The overhanging lights are installed at Donnell Street near the Salvation Army store and Henrietta Street by Granger Chevrolet.

In addition, TxDOT is working on Interstate 10 and 16th Street, which is also part of Texas Highway 87. The department has spent the past few years expanding the lanes on the interstate, installing new overpasses at 16th Street, and reworking the 16th Street intersections with the interstate access roads.

Dupre said currently multiple crews are working on the project limits from Adam's Bayou all the

Special Angels Rodeo sets fish fry fundraiser

For The Record

The Orange County Special Angels Rodeo is having its annual Fish Fry fundraiser Thursday, September 22, at 6 p.m. at the Orange County Convention and Expo Center on FM 1442. Single tickets are $50 each.

The event includes a fried fish dinner, live entertainment, and silent auction. Money raised for the event helps sponsor the Special Angels Rodeo for people with of all ages with disabilities. The Special Angels group provides a day's outing with adaptive rodeo events for the participants to enjoy the thrill of cowboys and cowgirls.

The rodeo this year will be on Saturday, November 12, at the T2 Arena in Orange.

The rodeo was created in 2014 by the family of "Miss Lue" Harris. The Harris family owns and operates the historic Farmers Mercantile store in downtown Orange. Miss Lue had dreamed of children and adults with disabilities to have their own rodeo.

The community has pitched in and made Orange County Special Angels Rodeo an annual event, except for during the pandemic.

The September 22 Fish Fry fundraiser helps raise money to provide the rodeo experience free to the participants. The event includes horseback riding, barrel bull riding, roping games, along with other rodeo games and a meal.

Tickets to the fundraiser are available through Jo Harris at 409-670-6358, or through Patty at 409-651-7346.

Volunteers will also be needed for the November 12 rodeo. People wanting to help at the rodeo should call Jo Harris or Patty at 409-651-7346.

Early influential pro football player came from Orange County

For The Record

One of Orange County's little-known football players has gained more fame in recent years as "Ox" Emerson is being credited for creating the wishbone formation and being one of pro football's greatest guards in the 1930s.

The Football Hall of Fame named the guard to its 1930s All-Decade Team in 2020, but a lot of followers, including a Sports Illustrated columnist, argued he should have made the All-Centennial Team.

Emerson played eight seasons in the NFL and made first team all-pro for six of those seasons, missing out on his rookie year in 1931 with the Portsmouth Spartans, who soon moved to Detroit and became the Lions. He also missed making all-pro his final season in 1938 with the Brooklyn Dodgers, where he later became an assistant coach.

Emerson played football at Orange High School in the 1920s. Heritage House Museum has his high school football helmet, though by today's standards, it would not be considered to be protective.

It is a brown leather skull cap with wool lining the ear flaps. It resembles more of a cold-weather cap than what we know now as a football helmet. It could not have provided protection against head injuries.

Emerson's birth name was Gover Conner, but the legend goes that he got the nickname in high school when he missed a play. The Tiger quarterback said "Emerson, you are a big dumb ox." Ox stuck.

After graduating from Orange High, he went to the University of Texas to play as a Longhorn. Even though he was born in 1907 in the East Texas town of Douglass in Smith County, "Ox" Emerson played football at Orange High School in the 1920s. Emerson played eight seasons in the NFL and made first team all-pro for six of those seasons. He is being credited for creating the wishbone formation and being one of pro football's greatest guards in the 1930s.

Orange is named as his hometown in the University of Texas Hall of Fame. He was inducted to the hall in 1966.

His records at UT include being captain of the 1927 freshman team. He was All-Southwest Conference at lineman in 1930, when the Longhorns won the conference championship. He was listed at 5-feet-11 and 203 pounds.

After college, he began his pro career in 1931 at a salary of $75 a game, according to online biographies. That amount in 2022 would be $1,471, according to the U.S. Department of Labor inflation calculator. With a 12-game series, he would have earned today's equivalent of $17,652 for the whole season, an income that would leave in a poverty classification, not a millionaire like today's pro sports players.

As an offensive guard with Portsmouth-Detroit, Emerson was known for making holes for the runners to gain yardage. The 1936 Lions set an NFL record for rushing for 2,885 yards in a 12-game season. The record remained for 36 years until the 1972 Miami Dolphins broke it with a 14-game season. Emerson is listed on the All-Time Lions team and also on the NFL's All-1930's Team.

Emerson started his coaching career in 1937 when he followed his Lions coach, Patsy Clark, to the Brooklyn Dodgers football team. He went back to the playing field in 1938 when the Dodgers had too many injuries and he was needed on the playing field, not the sidelines.

The Orange High quarterback called him "dumb as an ox," but he certainly wasn't dumb. After his pro season career, Emerson earned a master's degree in American diplomatic history.

When World War II broke out, he joined the U.S. Navy and earned the rank lieutenant commander. A 1997 article in "The Coffin Corner" magazine published by the Professional Football Researchers Association was written by Fred Crawford says Emerson was on an aircraft carrier that was sunk in the Atlantic by a German submarine and was with other crew members on a life raft for a number of hours before being rescued.

He ended up coaching the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station team. When he was discharged, he stayed in Corpus and coached high school in Alice. He went to the University of Texas as an assistant coach in 1951 and stayed there through 1956. Then he went back to coaching high school.

Online reporting says that Emory Bellard was an assistant coach under Emerson at Alice High School when he saw Emerson place a guard behind the line so the player could have room to run and block. That was the beginning of the now-famous Wishbone formation. Bellard went to be an assistant coach at the University of Texas under Darrell Royal.

Though Royal is credited for implementing the Wishbone formation for fullback Steve Worster, the Bridge City High School stand-out, it was under Bellard's suggestion. He learned it from Emerson.

Emerson died in November 1998 at the age of 90 in Travis County and is buried in Pflugerville. The University of Texas has the endowed G.C. "Ox" Emerson Scholarship in his honor.

Holiday in the Park festival booth space available now

Booth registrations are now being accepted for the City of West Orange's 2022 "Holiday in the Park" festival.

The festival is scheduled for Saturday, November 5, 2022 from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 in the park next door to West Orange City Hall (2700 Western Avenue; West Orange, Texas).

This home-town, community festival brings in people from around the area wanting to kick off the holiday season. The event will have food booths, craft booths, children's activities and will feature local entertainment.

Non-electrical booth spaces (14' x 14') are available for $40 each, while electrical booth spaces (20' x 14') are $65 each. Booths are rented on a first-come, first-served basis. The City of West Orange reserves the right to the sale of all carbonated beverages. NO alcohol of any kind will be sold at, or allowed on, the festival grounds. Rules and regulations, as well as a site map and registration form can be found on the City's website located at www.cityofwestorange.com. ment Director Joel Ardoin reported the county's Covid 19 cases last week marked 117 new cases with three hospitalizations. None were on venti-collection mark. She said the county averages 96 percent to 97 percent collection rates; so she does not expect many more to come in.

The county will begin a new fiscal year for 2022-23 on October 1, but taxes will not be due until January 2023.

County Engineer Corey Oldbury gave commissioners an outline of how he and the personnel director have reorganized the Road and Bridge Department. Each precinct crew will now be under the direction of the road supervisor, rather than individual precinct foremen. He said the change should give the foremen more time for other jobs.

The road and bridge department currently has 11 vacancies with three in the mechanics shop. Oldbury said the county is having to send some trucks out to get repairs because of the shortage.

In addition, Oldbury reported the East Roundbunch Road swing bridge was opened and closed 63 times last month. He expects those openings and closings to increase as more barges come through.

Airport Director Missy Pillsbury presented the annual RAMP grant from the Texas Department of Transportation used at the county airport. TxDOT provides $100,000 and the county has a $100,000 share for improvements and repairs. The court approved applying for the grant.

The court also approved applying to the Governor's office for the 2023 Bullet-Resistant Shield Grant for the four county constables.

Also, the court approved renewing an interlocal contract with the city of Pine Forest to provide a county vehicle for law enforcement.

Other routine business included extending an annual interlocal agreement with the Orange County Port District to lease property from the port. The county has been leasing an old navy base building since Hurricane Harvey in 2017. The remodeled building has been used to house out-of-town volunteers who have come to here to help repair hurricane damaged homes.

One crew is working west to east widening the pavement between Adam's Bayou and SH 87. The project includes reworking the base, treating the base, sealing and then topping it with concrete pavement.

Another interstate crew at working where 16th Street crosses under will begin fast track concrete paving so that the center pavement can be completed. Once the center portion of concrete paving is complete 16th Street (Texas 87) northbound traffic will be moved over onto the new pavement so that crews can begin work on the third phase of this intersection to complete, she said.

The crews dedicated to the Little Cypress Bayou and Sabine River Relief Bridges are waiting for the relocation of two fiber optic lines. Dupre said the crews are eager to get started on this work so that the entire eastbound segment from 16th Street to the state line can be finished.

Last week, the eastbound ramp at Simmons Drive was completed and TxDOT opened the ramp. Also last week, Ramp 5, west of the 16th Street intersection, was opened for traffic. During this work to open, the traffic barrier between Adam's Bayou and Simmons Dr. was shifted over to provide drivers with a less confined drive for a mile of the project limits, she said.

students from completing their studies, saddling them with debt but no degree, the White House argues. The White House also cast the relief program as part of its pandemic response.

In 2021, 56% of students who graduated from four-year public universities in Texas had approximately $25,000 in student debt, according to the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board.

In 2019, 81% of Black students who graduated with bachelor's degrees in Texas had some kind of debt, compared with 52% of white graduates in Texas. And the average debt load for Black graduates was about $4,000 higher than for white graduates, hovering around $30,311.

Student loan forgiveness has long been a major policy objective among Democrats, including the 2020 Biden campaign. Its backers say student debts are both holding back graduates from economic mobility and discouraging potential students from pursuing educations that could improve their financial prospects.

But there are stark divisions even among Democrats over how far student loan forgiveness should go. Progressives were unsatisfied with the amount of relief in Biden's plan, with U.S. Sen. Bernie Sanders calling for free higher education and a complete cancellation of student loans.

There are limits to Biden's power in student loan forgiveness. House Speaker Nancy Pelosi contends that only Congress, as the keeper of the purse strings, can completely erase all student loan debt, and Republicans, including U.S. Sen. Ted Cruz, have challenged the legal authority of Biden's more modest plan. The administration constitutionally can only spend money appropriated to it by Congress.

"This administration is exceeding its legal authority and illegally burdening hard-working Americans with debts they didn't take on themselves," Cruz said in a statement last month.

Legal issues aside, Republicans rebuffed the notion of loan forgiveness altogether, arguing it is unfair to students who have paid off their loans and fearing any further surge in cash could exacerbate the nation's high inflation. They also protest against tax dollars from Americans who never went to college going toward student loan relief.

"Simply put, your plan rewards the rich and punishes the poor," the governnors wrote in their Monday letter.

Other signatories run the ideological gamut of Republican governors, including hardliners like

Ron DeSantis of Florida and moderates like Larry Hogan of Maryland.

The White House did not immediately respond to a request for comment.

From the Creaux's Nest YEARS LATER WORDS JUMP BACK AT ME

Words you read from our Out of the Past section, 20-45-50 years etc, are words I wrote all those many years ago. I just rework them for today's publication. Some things I wrote years ago seems like I penned them recently. Example: In 45 Years Ago, you will read about Larry Spears, no not our Mayor of Orange but the Mayor's dad, who was a big football star who I was writing about. That seems very recent. There are hundreds of examples of memories like this. *I'm way behind so here goes, come along, I promise it won't do you no harm.

QUEEN ELIZABETH II LONGEST SERVING MONARCH EVER A LIFETIME FOR MOST

The year 1952 is the year that seemed to divide the past and the future. Up until that year, most of us country folks had lived our lives with no convenience, such as indoor plumbing or city water. Our water came from a hand pump well. This was the year we would get electricity to the house, no outlets, just one card with a light bulb. Our only radio was battery operated and far different than television of today, turned on in the morning and stays on all day. The radio was used for special programs, like a speech from the president, Grand Ole Opry on Saturday, and a few other important shows. We had no way to heat or cool the house. Coal oil stove was used for cooking. We got very little news from the outside world except local news from our weekly newspaper. WWII had ended in 1945 and the Korean conflict began in 1950 and was in full swing in 1952. Harry Truman, who replaced FDR, was president. I voted for the first time in 1952. Ike was elected and would take over in Jan., 1953. Through my childhood, the Saturday cowboy shows, for less than a dime, would entertain us boys all afternoon. By this time, I had outgrown Roy Rodgers, Gene Autrey, Bob Steel, Hopalong Cassidy and most cowboy shows. In early Feb. of 1952, I attended more serious movies, like war movies, usually with a date. We would make it to the downtown theater for the 3:00 p.m. feature. I don't recall much about this movie or who starred in it but the name of the movie was the "Glass Menagerie." I mention it today because that's how I learned 70 years ago, that England now had a queen. At that time, between movies, news features were shown. The King of England, in his early 50's, had unexpectedly died and his daughter Elizabeth had become the Queen. She was only in her mid-20's. I recall it was a cold day and my date and I were not dressed for it. After leaving the theater I ran the two miles home. I couldn't wait to tell mom about the new queen. Little did we know what a destiny the new queen would have and that her rein would last 70 years. Her son Charles would someday replace her. Twenty years ago, I felt sorry for him. She had served 50 years and wouldn't step down. After the death of his mother, at age 73, he was pronounced King Charles III, Sovereign of the United Kingdom. An entire life has gone by since Elizabeth became Queen, she died at age 96. My mother passed away 17 years ago and I'm just a couple years short of being married 70 years, have raised a family, and recorded many historical events since the day of the "Glass Menagerie" movie and learning of the new queen. The beautiful young lady that was my date has since passed away. I now have children who are collecting Social Security, and nine great grandchildren spread around the country. For me, who traveled the 70 years with Queen Elizabeth II, this feels like a special moment in history. On Monday, September 19, the state funeral will be televised at 11:00 a.m. President Joe Biden and leaders from around the world will attend. It will be a public holiday across the United Kingdom. The longest serving monarch in history holds a record that probably will never be broken.

A FEW HAPPENINGS

It was 3:00 a.m. when I started watching the Queen's funeral procession travel through Scotland. I enjoyed seeing the countryside and all the small villages, even though the event was sad.*I visited with Coach Les Johnson over the weekend. He tells me that Amy and Chad Hank's son has made quite a name for himself as a high school football star.*The sequins, gold, and black ties were on display Saturday night at the Orange County Expo Center as St. Mary School had its fundraising gala with the theme "Old Hollywood Magic." Stephanie Do was the chair of the event and word is she outdid herself with the food and decorations. The Dominican nuns at the school spent some time at the blackjack table, but we haven't learned whether luck was with the nuns. Attendees included Ambrose and Cindy Claybar with Cindy dressed in black with a fascinating headpiece, Karl and Rosalie Eason, and Stump and Dayle Weatherford.Terri Childs celebrated a birthday with husband, Orange City Councilor Brad Childs, along with lots of friends at Tia Juanita's. The group enjoying the festivities included Lucy Terry, Shari Rule, Mark and Janoise Grizzaffi, Brian and Shannon Halliburton, and Allisha Bonneaux. The Childs also went to Houston for a birthday weekend.Ron McAnnelley celebrated the big 5-0 with wife Becky. Anna Mobley marked another year, but isn't showing it. Marquarius Ledet turned

CAJUN STORY OF THE WEEK Dats My Story and I'm Sticking To It

Clovis Thibodeaux takes a day off from work him and decides to go golfing. On da second hole he notice a frog sitting on da green. Da fog say, "Rabbit 9 iron." Dat surprise Thibodeaux. He look around but don't see nobody. He put his club up and grab a 9 iron him, to prove dat frog wrong. Boom, he hit's a birdie. He is shocked. He say to dat frog. "You must be a lucky frog you." Da frog say, "Ribbit lucky Frog."

Thibodeaux bring dat frog to da next hole. Da frog say, "Ribbit 3 wood." Thibodeaux takes out a 3 wood and boom, a hole in one. By da end of da day Thibodeaux had played his best game of golf in his life. "O.K., where to next?" he ax.

"Ribbit Las Vegas," say da frog. Dem da go to Vegas. Thibodeaux ax, "O.K. Frog, now what?" "Ribbit roulette," say da frog. Upon approaching da roulette table Thibodeaux ax, "What should I bet?" "Ribbit $3,000, black 6," say dat frog. A million to one odds but after the golf game Thibodeaux figure wat da heck.

Thibodeaux take his winings an buy the best room in da hotel. He sits da frog down and say, "Frog, I don't know how to repay you, me." Da frog reply, "Ribbit kiss me." Thibodeaux figure, Wat da heck, after all da frog did for him, that's da least he can do. All of a sudden dat frog turns into da most gorgeous 16-year-old girl in da world. "And dat you honor is how dat girl ended up in my room."

C'EST TOUT TIME MOVES ON-17 YEARS AGO

Seventeen years ago, on Sept. 24, 2005, Hurricane Rita came a calling. She brought a lot of wind and the most destruction of any storm I've even known. Besides the destruction of many structures, Rita took down a half million trees in Orange County. Water oaks and pine trees took the blunt. One hundred year old water oaks were uprooted and the piners were sheared at mid trunk. Because of Ike's water damage we view it as a worse storm but Rita was brutal. Some of us had as many as three oaks crush our houses. Damage was everywhere. Seventeen years have gone by and meanwhile Ike came, making us seem to forget about Rita. During hurricane Rita few roads were passable, few homes were spared. So it was, as we get by that anniversary, we also improve the odds that we will not have a hurricane this year and that's OK by me. Rita made Gary Stelly as famous as Richard Corder and KOGT.com was born.*Well, time has caught up with me. This is all I can do. I'm a little surprised I got this far. Thanks for your time. Read us cover to cover and please shop our family of advertisers. Take care and God bless.

Deaths & Memorials

Glenn Hughes, 62, of Orange

Glenn Hughes, 62, of Orange, passed away on September 9, 2022, in Orange, Texas.

Funeral services will be held 10:00 a.m., Friday, September 16, 2022, at St. Paul Episcopal Church. Officiating will be Reverend Keith Giblin. Burial will follow at Orange Forest Lawn Cemetery in Orange.

Visitation will be from 5:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., Thursday, September 15, at Claybar Funeral Home in Bridge City.

Born in Orange, Texas, on July 26, 1960, he was the son of Loretta Ann Burns and Jerry Glenn Hughes, Sr. Glenn was a dedicated family man and his world revolved around his family. He loved country music, especially Texas Country. He enjoyed new and up-and-coming red dirt artists and making road trips with his wife Debbie of 38 years to live concerts. He was always known as the comedic relief of the family, and at any gathering he attended. He was especially known as a "very silly PawPaw". He was always extremely proud of his children's, grandchildren's, and his wife's accomplishments and was their biggest cheerleader- as his mom, Loretta, was his biggest cheerleader during his lifetime.

Glenn was a 1978 graduate of West Orange Stark High School and was honored to be their first mascot, "the Lone Ranger", and held a multitude of rodeo, FFA, and honor society leadership positions while in high school.

Glenn began working at the early age of 15 at Williams Pharmacy, in Orange, delivering prescriptions. He continued working through high school for the Horseman Store. He left to attend Texas A&M, majoring in Dairy Science. While attending A&M, he worked on the TAMU Dairy and then went on to work at the Spivey Ranch in Joy, Texas. In 1984, he returned to Orange and became a realtor for his family's company Jerry Hughes Realty. Glenn was always researching and learning new things. Over the years he gained more experience, becoming a real estate appraiser and owning a mortgage company earning #1 Top Tier National Awards. As the Internet became the new worldwide desire, he formed and opened EXP Internet in Bridge City, Texas providing internet service to over 5000 customers, eventually selling the company when Southwestern Bell came in with DSL. Always driven, he opened Grizzly Glenn Outdoor Products and spent years building custom saddle stands, signs, and Adirondack chairs. When his shop was destroyed by Hurricane Ike, he returned to ranching, raising Beef Master cattle which he still enjoyed along with his current job as the owner of 2G3D Photography, a licensed drone pilot, and real estate manager.

Glenn leaves this world having succeeded in many rolls: rancher, realtor, business owner, photographer, but more importantly, a dedicated family-man, son, husband, and loving father/grandfather. He will always be remembered for his can-do attitude, ever reaching drive, and endless love.

He is preceded in death by his father, Jerry Glenn Hughes Sr.; sister, Angela Hughes; grandmothers, Lizzie Roshong and Ovella Hughes.

He is survived by his loving wife, Debbie Hughes; children, Jefferson "Bennett" Hughes and wife, Lisa; Kayla Corinn Cheek and husband, Nick; grandchildren, Mackenzie Rae Cheek, Isabella Bennett Hughes, Ian Jerome Cheek, Emersyn Lou Hughes; and his mother, Loretta Hughes.

Serving as pallbearers will be Mike Shugart, Curtis Braswell, Guy Groves, Nick Cheek, Chris Cheek, Wade Barron, Mark Sepulvado, and Wayne Wiggins. Honorary pallbearers will be Jess Spivey, Daniel Spivey, and Don Stark.

In lieu of flowers memorial contributions can be made to St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Orange or to the Orange County Go Texan Scholarship Fund c/o Nikki Baron PO Box 1899 Orange, Texas 77631.

Bobcats on the road to Woodville

The Orangefield Bobcats improved their season's record to 2-1 with a win last week against the Shepherd Pirates. This week will be the first game of the season for the Bobcats not played at F. L. McClain Stadium in Orangefield.

The Bobcats defeated the Pirates 42-28 in what could be a preview of a possible meeting in the post season. Orangefield and Shepherd are both picked to be play-off contenders in their respective districts which play each other in the first round of the state playoffs.

Orangefield Coach Josh Smalley said it was a good win for the Bobcats. "We've still got a lot of areas we need to cleanup. The kicking game was good again for kicker Ty Butler. We didn't have to punt all night," Smalley recalled.

Running back Cameron Dischler of the Bobcats had his second straight great game rushing for 167 yards and two touchdowns against the Pirates. Junior tailback Mason Houghton gained over a hundred yards running and returned a punt over 80 yards for one of his two scores in the game. Smalley praised, "Up front we looked better, still improving and obviously we do have a long ways to go there with the young line-men."

On defense Leyton Loft was a leader for the Bobcats with 11 tackles. The Orangefield secondary also played well. "It was a good game for us all around. We turned the ball over twice, once on the three-yard line to give the Pirates a short field. We've still got some penalties we need to correct," Smalley summarized.

No new injuries for the Bobcats from the game with Shepherd. The MRI concerning Morgan Sampson's knee has not been fully released for Coach Smalley to review. Sampson's status is listed as questionable for this week's game as a result.

Friday night the Bobcats will play another school from the same district as Shepherd. The Woodville Eagles are picked also to be a playoff contender and possibly the district champions.

Woodville has gone from a ground and pound running team to a wide-open offense using the Spread. The Eagles will throw the football but they like to run it first.

The Eagle quarterback Ralon Williams is a double threat running and throwing the ball. The quarterback Williams is a bigger type kid, but does run well has good feet, throws a lot of screens, and throws the ball deep. Two other running threats are Zayon Williams and Jatavion Taylor.

The offensive line is big and talented. Braylon Riggsby and Tyler Limbrick are two of the best blockers for Woodville.

When the Eagles pass the ball Jacob Hyder and Christian Bean are the primary receivers. Smalley described, "The Eagles have gone from the Double Wing two or three years ago when

Weekend football saw no wins, close losses, even one tie

KAZ'S KORNER Joe Kazmar For The Record

There was plenty of excitement in area college football games and even the two NFL franchises in Texas, but in the end of those games no football fans left their respective stadiums happy that their team won—except perhaps the Houston Texan faithful who saw their team play a 20-20 tie they were supposed to lose by more than a touchdown.

Things got started late Saturday morning when the Texas Longhorns welcomed Alabama—the nation's No. 1 team and 20-point favorites—into Darrell K. Royal Stadium in Austin.

Although the 105,213 fans that crowded into the stadium went in with the notion they were going to see their Longhorns get blasted, braved the 100-degree heat and sat in the blazing sun for nearly four hours awaiting the inevitable.

The mighty Crimson Tide struggled in the first half and managed a touchdown and field goal which was matched by the 'Horns as the crowd sensed that Texas was either playing way over their heads or 'Bama was having one of their poorest showings. It proved to be a combination of both and roused the stadium full of 'Horn-lovers.

Texas managed only a field goal in the third period which was three more points than Alabama scored and the fans became electrified when Longhorns' place-kicker Bert Auburn booted a 24-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter, giving Texas a 16-10 lead.

'Bama scored a touchdown with 8:29 left to go ahead 17-16 which quieted the crowd just a tad, but when Auburn booted a 48-yard three-pointer with 1:29 left the crowd smelled an upset in the making.

But 'Bama coach Nick Saban didn't run up a white flag but instead fired his offense up in those final 89 seconds as Heisman Trophy winner Bryce Young drove the football inside the Texas 25 to set up kicker Will Reichard and with 10 seconds left in the game he calmly was true on his 33-yard field goal that finally quieted the rowdy crowd of upset seekers as 'Bama won 20-19.

It was an entirely different scenario at College Station where Texas A&M was hosting small-college giant Appalachian State, who came to town as an 18½-point underdog.

That didn't seem to bother the Mountaineers as much as their defense did the Aggies, who were held to a skimpy 189 yards of total offense compared to App State's 315 and only nine first downs while the visitors totaled 21. The score was always close—although the visitors never trailed in the game—and if it wasn't for Aggie speedster Devon Achane's 95-yard kickoff return for a touchdown—would almost look lop-sided as A&M never crossed the goal line except once in the second quarter.

The crowd of 92,664 in Kyle Field was mostly subdued as they kept waiting for their heroes to break the game wide open.

But that never happened because the Aggies had the football for only 19 minutes, compared to 41 minutes for the Mountaineers.

The big difference-maker in the final 17-14 score was an App State 29-yard field goal midway in the fourth period. Aggie's kicker Caden Davis missed on a 47-yard field goal attempt with 3:43 left in the game.

The loss sent the Aggies tumbling from No. 5 in the AP College Football Rankings to No. 24 in this week's Top 25 Poll.

In the opening of the 2022 NFL season at NRG Stadium in Houston, the Texans hosted their division-nemesis Indianapolis Colts as an eight-point underdog. The Colts had man-handled Houston in their two meetings last year while Indy marched off and captured the AFC South Division flag.

But there was one bugaboo about these Colts—they have been unable to win a season opener for the past eight seasons. They have always had too many penalties, dropped passes and defensive glitches and ended up losing every time.

Sunday was no different as Indy played its usual mistake-filled opening game while the Texans looked like an entirely different team than the one that finished 2021 with a 4-17 record.

The Texans took a 10-3 lead into the dressing room at intermission and then doubled their score in the third period, going into the fourth and final quarter in command 20-3.

But in the fourth period the Texans of old reappeared and gave up an early field goal and then two touchdowns, featuring the hard-running of NFL rushing champion Jonathan Taylor, tying the score at 20-20 with less than two minutes left in regulation play.

Quarterback Davis Mills completed 23 of 37 passes for 240 yards and two touchdowns—both to 6-6, 251-pound newcomer O.J. Howard—and zero interceptions. But in the fourth quarter and the overtime

The old rivalry between the Little Cypress-Mauriceville Bears and the Bridge City Cardinals was renewed on Friday night. It was close a game for a half until the Bears scored the last 34 points to win 41-7 at Larry Ward Stadium in Bridge City.

Little Cypress-Mauriceville (2-1) was coming off a loss to its other big local rival West Orange-Stark last week. Bridge City (1-2) won its first game of the season last week and was looking to make it two straight victories.

The Bears wasted little time getting on the scoreboard scoring on their fourth play of the game. Facing a fourth-and-5 at their own 41 the Bears elected to go for the first down and got a spectacular touchdown from Da'Marion Morris on a 59-yard run. Lucas Wright kicked the point after to give LCM a 7-0 lead just sixty-two seconds into the game.

Later in the first quarter the Bears had an opportunity to add to their lead. Taking over at their 42 the Bears got first down passes from quarterback Dean Reynolds to Kyler Garlaska and then to Jacob Pollock moving the ball to the Bridge City 19.

The two teams exchanged penalties with LCM getting the better end of the deal resulting in a first-and-goal at the 10 after the Cardinal infraction. There the Bridge City defense stiffened.

A short run, an incomplete pass, and a sack by the period, he was missing his targets badly, which stymied any offense.

Both teams played the final two minutes rather conservatively, not wanting to turn the ball over deep in their own territory and setting up an easy game-winning field goal or even touchdown.

Houston won the flip and took the ball first, without much success. The Colts were no better until two minutes were left in the overtime when they moved the ball to the Texans 19. But Indy quarterback Matt Ryan lost five-yards, setting kicker Rodrigo Blankenship Cardinals Mason Pruitt moved the ball back to the 15. On fourth down Wright attempted a 32-yard field goal but the kick was wide left.

Bridge City responded with an eleven play, 80-yard drive. Cardinal quarterback Hutch Bearden completed a 17-yard pass to Josmany Robleto for a first down.

Bearden completed a 13-yard pass to Cale Breaux sandwiched between two major penalties called on the Bears that moved the Cardinals to a first down on the LCM 14. Noah Brousard caught a 10-yard pass from Bearden.

That set the stage for Bridge City's JS Bearden to run for a first down to the one. His touchdown on the next play was wiped out by a Bridge City penalty, but it only delayed the celebrations for one play as JS ran the ball into the end zone from the six for six points. Victor Hernandez tied the game 7-7 with 10:58 to play in the second quarter.

The Cardinals avoided a disaster when a snap to punter Gavin Bodin sailed over his head. Bodin retreated about twenty yards to retrieve the ball and then boomed a kick that got a great roll all the way to the Bears' 29 for a punt of 37 yards but a difference of about 50 yards in field position if Bodin had not gotten the punt off.

Little Cypress-Mauriceville regained the lead midway through the second quarter. Morris ran 11 yards for a first down and the Cardinals were flagged for face masking moving the ball to the Bridge City 20.

Reynolds had one carry and Morris carried three times the last one from the two for the touchdown. Wright's kick made the score 14-7 in favor of the Bears with 4:38 before half time.

Bridge City threatened on its final drive of the half. JS Bearden ran for two first

Teal season opens to mixed reviews

OUTDOORS Capt. Chuck Uzzle For The Record

Saturday morning's early teal season opener began with plenty of odds stacked against most hunters in our area but that fact did not dampen the enthusiasm associated with the opportunity to shoot ducks. Many local hunters actually began to camp out at some of the local public hunting areas on Thursday in hopes of ensuring a prized location for Saturday morning. I must admit, even though I love to hunt teal that I am not mad enough at them to sleep on the road 2 days before a hunt. Regardless of how you got there Saturday morning it was nice to be back in the field with a shotgun in your hand and the opportunity to hunt ducks.

Going into the opening weekend there were 2 very distinct groups of hunters, the ones who would be hunting rice fields and those who would not. The hunters fortunate enough to be overlooking a fresh cut tract of rice on Saturday morning could certainly smile through the dense populations of mosquitoes and hot temperatures because there were plenty of teal to take your mind off marshes struggled while the folks in the rice fields burned it up.

the buzzing and the sweat dripping from your forehead. If you happened to be hunting the marsh you had the same conditions to deal with minus the numbers of teal. Overall the hunters who took to the local bers of blue winged teal reported prior to the opener came from either freshwater locations or agricultural fields. The saltwater marshes from Winnie over to the east side of Lake Charles were nearly void of any teal leading up to the opener on Saturday. The lack of huntable numbers of birds kept many hunters at home over the weekend while only the die hards braved the less than desirable conditions. The combinations of high temps, constant storms building up off of the coast, and a lack of wind did little to help out those hunters in the coastal marshes.

Easily the best reports and results came from the prairies as many hunters took longer setting out decoys than shooting their limits. As expected the best reports were from hunters on the west side of Houston in areas like Wharton, Matagorda, and Eagle Lake. Also to the east in Louisiana in Welsh, Klondike,

Lake Arthur and Gueydan reported quick limits and plenty of birds. To say the weekends opening results were a case of the "haves and have nots" would be an understatement.

The out look for the coming week looks promising as we have begun to get just a hint of lower humidity and an occasional breeze from the north or the west making things feel much better in the field. The full moon that was here on the 10th will still be bright enough to usher more birds into the area so look for numbers to improve as the biggest push of bluewings has yet to make its way to Texas. The best part of the migration is still yet to come so don't give up hope just yet.

cal in the offensive line, and they've got good speed all over the field. It'll be a big challenge for us defensively."

On defense Woodville uses an even four-man front. The leader in the defensive line is Texas Tech commit Braylon Rigsby. At 280 pounds Rigsby is strong and physical while still being very agile for a player his size.

Wesley Walsh has impressed Coach Smalley with his mobility and being all over the field making hits. Walsh does a good job chasing plays down from behind.

Linebacker Kadan Williams is the Eagles' answer when things are not going well on defense. Williams blitzes frequently and makes plays behind the line of scrimmage for Woodville.

Smalley evaluated the Eagles on defense. "They're very physical. They're athletic outside wide enough that if you try to go spread with them they can man you up and speed wise stay with you. This allows the Eagles to keep six or seven in the box against the run. They only gave up 22 points to number one Franklin the first week of the season. They beat Newton and last week they beat Liberty, so they do a good job and they hang their hat on the defense," Smalley analyzed.

This will be the first road game of the season for Orangefield. The first game for many of the young Bobcats to have to get on the bus and travel to play an opponent could be intimidating. Smalley explained, "Any time you travel with a young group like we are, you worry about their head and their mentality on that bus. Last year we had a good group led by 18 seniors that knew how to handle things and had experience traveling. It'll be a little different this year so it's our job as coaches to kind of prepare them for that and let them know what it's going to be like getting there, how to handle and act on a bus ride."

This game is Orangefield's last tune up before district begins next week. "We're trying to see in this game will our kids keep competing. We feel like we've competed well in the three games we've played so far even in the loss to Legacy. Can we do the same on the road against a good football team that's proven how good they are with the teams they've played and the games they've won. If we can go up there and compete with those guys I'll feel good about it, and if we go up there and compete and get a win I'll feel even better about it," Smalley concluded.

The Orangefield Bobcats play the Woodville Eagles on Friday night. The kickoff will be at 7:30 in Woodville.

Cardinals face a big challenge in Lumberton

The Bridge City Cardinals played an old rival last week and played them well for a half. This week the Cardinals play possibly their toughest opponent so far this season and on the road.

The Cardinals stayed close to their cross-county rival the Little Cypress-Mauriceville Bears through the first two quarters on Friday. Unfortunately, the second half just as it did the week before against Buna did not go well for Bridge City.

Running back JS Bearden scored sixty-two seconds into the second quarter to tie the game 7-7 for the Cardinals. The Bears scored late in the half to retake the lead by a touchdown going to halftime.

In the second half Bridge City could manage only two first downs and one of those was on a penalty against LCM. Quarterback Hutch Bearden was 6 of 12 passing for 75 yards in the first, but completed only one of five passes for one yard in the second half.

Mason Pruitt continued his excellent play at linebacker for the Cardinals on defense. JS Bearden ran the ball tough and gained 47 yards on 11 carries.

Coach Cody McGuire is concerned Bridge City has not played a complete game yet this season. "Our kids came out and played well just like the week before. We played a great first half, but we've got to put four quarters together if we do that we're going to be a really tough team," McGuire indicated.

Bridge City travels to Lumberton this week. The Raiders are a district opponent of Little Cypress-Mauriceville and are picked by several prognosticators to be the best team in that district.

On offense Lumberton operates out of the Spread.

Noah Broussard of the Cardinals caught three passes against the Bears.

The Raiders throw the ball about sixty percent of the time with quarterback Lucas Powell who completed passes for over 2500 yards and 25 touchdowns last season. Powell also ran for ten scores.

Powell's favorite target is Brady Fuselier who caught 19 passes good for 434 yards and seven touchdowns in 2021. Another key receiver is Kaleb Koch as a position pass catcher. Trey Kersh is the Raiders' big playmaker on long passes.

When the Raiders want to run the football they have a big offensive line including seniors Jonathan Lamberth and Nick Woodland. They open holes for Jaddon Ward who is a load himself at 210 pounds. Ward rushed for 12 touchdowns and close to a thou-

The Raiders are very solid with their multiple attack on offense. McGuire analyzed, "Their O-line is very, very good they get after you. They're just a solid team offensively."

Lumberton runs the same defensive alignment as Bridge City with the 3-4 odd man front. Senior inside linebacker Jared Morgan is the leader for the Raiders on defense with 82 tackles and two sacks in 2021.

Highly recruited by colleges on the outside at defensive end or outside linebacker is Brock Jackson who at 6-4 and 230 pounds is very fast. Jackson had four sacks and 16 tackles for losses with the Raiders last year.

At tackle is Grayden Spencer at 255 pounds. He must be moved if the Cardinals want to run the football.

Leading the Raider secondary is senior safety Carson Rea. He was Lumberton's leading tackler this past season. Broc Bonner is the other safety and is also very good.

The defense for Lumberton may take a back seat to the Raiders' offense but is very talented from the front line to the secondary. “They’ve got some dudes on that side of the ball, but they look very similar to us on defense and they get after it. They fly to the ball, so it’ll be a great challenge for us,” McGuire stated.

This week’s biggest key for Bridge City to stay close to a team like Lumberton is for the Cardinals to play all four quarters. “We’re a young team and our guys have got to learn how to play four quarters. We’ve got to clean up the mistakes like turnovers. Our kids are getting better and they’re working hard every week so I’m excited about what we can do down the road,” McGuire concluded.

The Bridge City Cardinals play the Lumberton Raiders on Friday night. The game begins at 7:30 in Lumberton.

Mustangs travel to Newton

The West Orange-Stark Mustangs suffered a rare loss last week and now must travel to Newton to face the always tough Eagles. This week is the last game before district begins next week for the Mustangs.

The size of the opponent is always secondary to West Orange-Stark as the Mustangs play everybody tough regardless of the other team’s classification. The Port Neches-Groves Indians are two classifications larger than West Orange-Stark and defeated the Mustangs 26-7 last Friday.

Defensive tackle Makelon Sells played well for the Mustangs. Jamaal Shaw had his first interception of the year and several tackles.

Offensively Dakarion Judge caught a touchdown pass. Quarterback Keyshawn Robinson did some running, but Coach Hickman commented the Indians did a good job of containing Robinson most of the night. “It just wasn’t a good night for the Mustangs,” Hickman added.

West Orange-Stark plays an opponent from a lower classification this Friday in Newton but nobody is taking anything for granted when the Mustangs play the Eagles. This has been a solid rivalry for the last several years.

Just as tradition has been a strong part of the football program at West Orange-Stark the same is true with the Newton Eagles. The offense has not changed in years with the Wing T. The Eagles will run a lot of traps to fool opposing defenses.

A leader for Newton is Maliek Woods at quarterback who was all-district last season for the Eagles. Woods is very fast and shifty with the football.

The power back for the Eagles is Leighton Foster. He accounted for twelve offensive touchdowns in 2021.

There is speed all through the Newton offense. Hickman described, “It’ll be another challenge for us. It’s typical Newton, they’re fast, they’re quick, but they are a lot like us with a lot of guys playing both ways. It’ll be a typical old east Texas dog fight.”

The defense at Newton like its offense has not been changed in probably decades. The Newton Seven Diamond is still the base but the Eagles will shift into multiple fronts and use various blitzes.

As they have done in the past in games against Newton, the Mustangs will try to throw the football against the Eagles including some long balls. “We’re going to try to take some shots, you’ve got to with that defense. They are bringing everybody with man-to-man coverage across the board you’ve got to hit some passes deep. You’ve got to hit some stuff in the middle of the field and try to run the ball up the middle against them,” Hickman reminded.

Leighton Foster is a standout on defense too at middle linebacker. Foster was the winner of the Willie Ray Smith Award last year for his play on defense and was voted the district MVP by the coaches.

This week the focus for the Mustangs is getting back on the winning track against Newton. “All you can do is go to practice and back to work to get back to the basics back to what football is all about which is blocking and tackling. We’ve got to do that better. We play this schedule for a reason and we don’t back away from it. We’ll see what we’re made of. They say you learn a lot from losses. Those first two wins maybe we didn’t see some of the things that were exposed last Friday night against PNG. We’re going to take it as a learning experience. Our goal is to be the winner at the end,” Hickman concluded.

The West Orange-Stark Mustangs will battle the Newton Eagles on Friday night. The game is scheduled for 7:30 PM in Newton.

Bears travel to Houston

Little Cypress-Mauriceville played its second straight rivalry game last Friday. The result was better for the Bears as they get prepared to play a private school out of Houston this week.

The Bears came off their loss to West Orange-Stark two weeks ago and traveled to Bridge City to play their longtime rival the Cardinals. LCM scored early, was tied by the Cardinals in the second quarter, before the Bears scored the last 34 points in a convincing 41-7 victory.

Coach Eric Peevey was happy to see his star player Da’Marion Morris have his normal standout performance on offense and defense. “He had over a hundred yards rushing, about 50 to 60 receiving, a big interception and other great plays on defense,” Peevey elaborated.

The offensive line for Little Cypress-Mauriceville played well. The Bears had over 480 yards of total offense, 230 rushing and about 250 passing.

What Peevey was not happy about were 12 penalties against the Bears for 120 yards. Peevey recalled, “We couldn’t keep away from penalties, even defensively we kept giving the Cardinals new life because of personal fouls, face masks, and this and that.”

This week the Bears have a long road trip to Houston to play the private school the Kinkaid Falcons.

The Falcons are the defending champions in their private school division. Kinkaid lines up in the Spread or will shift into a heavy set formation.

The whole Kinkaid offense revolves around speedster Micah Bell who rushed for 1200 yards and ten touchdowns last season. Bell has committed to play at Notre Dame upon graduation from Kinkaid.

David Capobianco is the returning quarterback for the Falcons. Capobianco passed for 2,119 yards and 28 touchdowns in 2021. He has two quality receivers returning from last year in Harrison Lawrence and Nico Gomez.

Blitzing is a main ingreredient of the Kinkaid defense. The Falcons use a four-man front, a three-man front, and can get to a five-man front.

Two weeks from now LCM hopes to play its first game on the new artificial turf at Battlin’ Bear Stadium.

The Bears would love to win in Houston against Kinkaid before practicing and then playing on their new field. “Kinkaid is a very solid team. They won state last year in their division, I think we were their only loss for the year. The Falcons are struggling a little bit this year but they are playing everybody close. They lost on a Hail Mary to Jasper which is very good. I’m really interested to see how our team reacts with a two and a half hour rode trip. We’ve been on the road the whole year, but this is our first one where it’s two hours away, a pre-playoff type atmosphere. I’m kind of anxious to see how our team reacts, how our team plays with going on the road for that long of a trip getting there and getting their minds right getting them focused. With as many young kids as we have on our team this is really a great experience for us, and we really need to get this win and play better.” Peevey concluded.

The Little Cypress-Mauriceville Bears play the Kinkaid Falcons in Houston on Friday night. The kickoff will be at seven.

But the kick went wide, giving Mills & Company another shot at the victory. They moved the ball inside the 50, but on fourth and long Head Coach Lovie Smith decided to punt the ball and settle for a tie which brought a chorus of boos from the packed stadium who watched what seem to be a sure victory turn into a 20-20 tie.

Smith’s decision not only provoked the fans but it sent football writers scratching their heads in disbelief. And for the Indianapolis Colts—they still haven’t won on Opening Day.

Like the old adage says, playing for a tie is like kissing your sister. Lovie Smith must have a good-looking sister!!!

KWICKIES...

Another disappointment for fans in the Lone Star State was the Dallas Cowboys Sunday night who were throttled 19-3 by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and their quarterback Tom Brady.

The worse news is that their stellar high-dollar quarterback Dak Prescott broke his thumb and will be out from six to eight weeks. He stunk up Idiot Owner Jerry Jones’ Palace before leaving in the fourth period with the injury—or, he had it earlier and tried to play hurt.

The Houston Astros will have to wait another week or so before becoming eligible for the playoffs --like the LA Dodgers already have-- and also winning the AL West Division. Going into Monday’s action at Detroit, the Astros still had 22 games remaining in the regular season. Their 12-4 victory over the LA Angels was the 90th of the season, the 11th time in the franchise’s 61-year history and the fifth time in the last six years. It also was manager Dusty Baker’s 12th 90-win season in his 25 years as a manager.

St. Louis Cardinals slugger Albert Pujols hit his 697th career home run Sunday to move ahead of Alex Rodriguez into fourth place in major league history. He trails Babe Ruth, Hank Aaron and Barry Bonds on the all-time list.

JUST BETWEEN US...

Kansas City Chiefs’ head coach Andy Reid looked slightly perplexed during Sunday’s postgame press conference after his team had disemboweled the Arizona Cardinals 44-21 when the football writers asked him why his quarterback Patrick Mahomes is so good in season openers.

“He’s pretty good all the time,” Reid quipped. “We’re lucky to have him.” Mahomes threw for 360 yards and five touchdowns, zero interceptions and zero sacks. Actually, it was the third time he accomplished that feat.

He completed touchdown passes on the first three drives of Kansas City’s season and is the second quarterback to do that since at least 1991. The other was Green Bay’s Aaron Rodgers in 2011.

downs before his brother Hutch completed a 30-yard pass to Bodin for a first down to the Bears' 23.

Morris made the big defensive play intercepting a Bearden pass near the sideline to give the ball back to the Bears at their three with just 56 seconds left in the half. LCM got two first downs and got to Bridge City territory before the first half concluded.

The second half for Bridge City was almost a carbon copy of the last two quarters last week against Buna. The Cardinals got the second half kickoff and then had a pass intercepted by Jackson Smith of the Bears.

Seven plays and the Bears went up by two scores. Reynolds completed first down passes to Elijah Allison and Pollock. Morris ran the ball four times for 17 yards and scored the touchdown from the nine with 7:59 left in the third quarter.

Another golden opportunity presented itself for the Bears when Jonah Fuller recovered a Cardinal fumble on the kickoff. The Bears turned the ball over on downs after losing 12 yards.

JS Bearden ran 13 yards for a Bridge City first down at the LCM 29. It would be the only first down made by the Cardinal offense in the second half. One other first came on a Bear penalty.

Fuller made a nice deflection of a Hutch

Bearden pass on fourth down to turn the ball back over to the Bears. Reynolds completed three first down passes to Garlaska, Allison, and Fuller before running 11 yards for a touchdown that put LCM up 28-7 with 2:18 left in the third period.

Reynolds and Allison hooked up for 61-yard touchdown with five seconds left in the third. Fuller replaced Morris at running back and scored the final touchdown from 10 yards out in the fourth quarter.

The Bears' Morris was the leading ground gainer with 141 yards on 18 carries and three touchdowns. Fuller carried the ball 8 time picking up 63 yards including his touchdown. Reynolds was 14 of 28 passing with no interceptions for 252 yards and the one touchdown. Allison had 7 receptions for 103 yards.

The Bridge City offense had JS Bearden rush 11 times for 42 yards. Hutch Bearden had 13 carries for 31 yards, and Josmany Robleto toted the ball 10 times for 21 yards. Hutch Bearden was 6 of 12 passing in the first half for 75 yards, but only completed one pass for one yard in the second half.

LCM travels to Houston next week to play Kincaid with the kickoff at 7:00 PM on Friday. Bridge City is on the road at Lumberton to play the Raiders with the game beginning at 7:30 on Friday.

tough team to beat (at least in the 1960's when I was in LC Town). Vidor needs to eliminate their mistakes as district play nears.

DEWEYVILLE over ACADIANA CHRISTIAN—This group of Pirates also would like a victory over a Louisiana parochial school to get a little winning streak going after the impressive victory over West Hardin last week.

LAMAR over NORTHERN COLORADO—The Cardinals are still searching for their first win of the season and it will come as an upset at Provost-Umphrey Stadium in Beaumont this week. SMU waltzed past the Redbirds 45-15 in their "big money game" last week and they're ready to come back from that huge loss like champs.

McNEESE STATE over ALCORN

STATE—The Cowboys paid a price in their "Sacrificial Lamb" game at Rice last week, getting walloped 52-10 and should register a win this week. But it may not be easy if they continue to make mistakes.
