Tuesday is Primary Election Day

MARGARET TOAL For The Record

Tuesday, March 5, is primary Election Day in Texas with a local Republican race drawing national attention with a fiercely fought race for the Orange County state representative's seat. Incumbent representative Dade Phelan, who serves a speaker of the Texas House of Representatives is being challenged by David Covey.

Phelan led the house's successful impeachment of Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton for accusations of misdoings. The Texas Senate did not impeach him.

Covey, a former Orange County Republican chair who lives in Mauriceville, has the endorsement of Paxton and former President Donald Trump. Local officials have endorsed Phelan, saying his influence in Austin has helped the county get new industries and funding on public projects, including Lamar State College-Orange.

The county will have 23 boxes on primary day and any registered Orange County voter with proper identification ma vote at any of the boxes, instead of only at an assigned neighborhood box. Hours

The county elections administration office and the county commissioners court worked for several years with the Texas Secretary of State to get the new system approved. It will save costs on paying

During the weekend, a few scattered wildfires were reported in Orange Jasper counties, and though they were able to be contained without spreading far.

The Panhandle fires by Tuesday afternoon had consumed more than 250,000 acres and were not under control. Evacuations were called in towns like Canadian and Tampa, were including evacuations of towns like Canadian and Tampa. Windows depict sermons on life of Jesus

DAN PERRINE For The Record

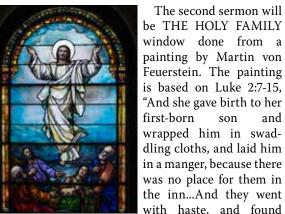

The First Presbyterian Church of Orange, will be doing a special series of sermons on the life of Jesus Christ during the season of Lent featuring the six stained glass windows in the church's sanctuary. Pastor Bobby Daniel will gear his sermons at the six Sunday morning services of Lent on the portion of Jesus' life depicted in each one of the six windows.

The window series of sermons from Pastor Bobby Daniel began on Sunday, February 25 at the First Presbyterian Church during the 10:00 AM service with a different window to be covered on six consecutive Sundays. The final sermon of the series will be on Easter Sunday, March 31. The First Presbyterian Church is located on Green Avenue between Eighth and Ninth Streets in downtown Orange.

The series begins on the west side of the sanctuary with THE ANNUNCIA-TION window which was done based on a painting by Frederick James Shield depicting the Archangel Gabriel telling Mary she got separated from his parents Mary and Joseph. They frantically looked through the city for Jesus before Luke 2:46 tells where they found Him, "After three days they found Him in the temple, sitting among the teachers listening to them and asking them questions."

Across the sanctuary on the east side is the only window in the Lutcher Memorial Building produced from a painting by a female artist Sibyl C. Parker. THE GOOD SHEPHERD is filled with symbolism regarding Jesus including the structure of the beams behind Him. John 10:11 tells, "I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd lays down His life for the sheep."

had spent a total of $79.9 million locally. Of that, $42.7 million was spent by 101 local companies with work contracted by Chevron-Phillips, plus $37.2 million by Chevron-Phillips to local companies for contracted work.

Betancourth explained that local companies are those with main business locations in Orange County, including the cities of Orange, West Orange, Bridge City, Pinehurst, Vidor, and Rose City. The local workforce in the report is for people with a main residences in the nine-county area which besides Orange County but also Jefferson, Hardin, Jasper, Newton, Tyler, and Chambers counties, plus the Bolivar Peninsula area of Galveston County.

Orange County Commissioners Court as part of the tax abatement agreement with Chevron-Phillips required the company to establish the Local First program to assure companies in Orange County, along with area workers are used for the construction phase. The quarterly reports are part of the agreement.

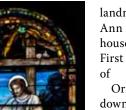

As part of the program, Chevron-Phillips has had hiring expos for workers and other expos for local vendors and contractors for how they can be approved to become a vendor. Pre-registration details are available at the corporation's website or the Golden Triangle Polymers Facebook page.

Another Local First Job Fair is set for March 7, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the county Expo Center on FM 1442.

Betancourth said the Local First program requested a list of the International Paper mill's local vendors plus held an employment session for the employees of the mill. International Paper in October announced the plant's December closing.

Other statistics from the plant project included fourth quarter spending of nearly $1.7 million on small purchases with local businesses including a number of locally-owned restaurants, office supply companies, building materials, appliances, grocery stores, floral shops, big box stores, and a variety of others. Those purchases would also provide sales taxes to the county and local cities.

County Judge John Gothia said he has had calls about hiring of people who live outside the area. But, he explained, Orange County "doesn't have an abundance of skilled labor" and "sometimes you have to go to another area."

In other business, Patrick Bebee, county mosquito control director, asked for an additional $82,500 for his budget to buy mosquito spraying insecticide to fight the influx of mosquitos. He said the county's spray plane has only enough chemicals to make four more flights for the rest of the 2023-24 fiscal year, which will end September 30.

He said last year's severe drought, followed by rain in October, brought out the salt water mosquitoes. An unseasonably warm winter has caused mosquitoes to continue to proliferate. County commissioners unanimously approved the extra money. Bebee said he hopes it lasts.

Residents of the Heritage Hollow subdivision in Precinct 3 have requested the county to lower the speed limit to 15 mph on the residential streets, which include Chimney Rock and Fireside.

A resident said all but three people living on the street have signed a petition because children play and ride bikes in the street. The county will hold a public hearing on the proposed new speed limit at 9:30 a.m. April 2. The date was set to meet the legal requirements to advertise the proposed change and public hearing.

Orange located in the downtown section of the southeast Texas city 112 years ago. The impressive building opened on January 28, 1912 with the first worship service being held in it, and the First Presbyterian Church in Orange has worshiped in the beautiful building for over a century.

Commissioners court also appointed new Bridge City City Manager Christopher Baker to the board of directors of the Orange County Economic Development Corporation. He is replacing the vacancy of a Bridge City representative on the board. In addition, Chad Jennings with the new Golden Triangle Polymers plant was appointed to the board.

County Tax Assessor-Collector Karen Fisher reported the county in January collected $69.55 million in taxes, with $20 million of that the county's share. The county office also collects taxes for cities, school districts, and special districts.

Payments approved included nearly $186,000 to T Construction for work on drainage improvement projects with the money coming from Texas General Land Office hurricane recovery grants. Precinct 2 Commissioner Chris Sowell said the work is going to help solve drainage projects. Texas in 1878 and joined the First Presbyterian Church which at the time was located further south in town than the present building and near the Sabine River.

Mrs. Lutcher had a dream to build a church to glorify God based on scriptures in the Bible from Proverbs 3:9-10, Leviticus 23:10-14, II Chronicles 31:5, and I Kings 9:1-3. These Bible scriptures all refer to giving first fruits to Him. "Honor the Lord from your wealth, and from the first of all your produce;" (Proverbs 3:9).

While visiting the World's Fair in Chicago in 1893 Mrs. Lutcher saw three opalescent stained glass windows from the Lamb Studio that she knew would be the center pieces for the church building she planned to build. Those three windows are now located on the front of the Lutcher Memorial Building facing the sanctuary inside.

The Lamb Studio was hired by Mrs. Lutcher to be the contractor for the new church building she was having constructed. On Mrs. Lutcher's instructions Lamb produced opalescent stained glass windows for the first floor of the building which served as classrooms for the Sunday school and the second floor where the sanctuary was located.

Each window represents an event or circumstance in the life of Jesus Christ. The first floor deals with Jesus either as a child or Him reaching out to children while the second floor gives more of a chronological history of Jesus' life.

Pastor Daniel will speak on the windows found on the second floor along the west and east sides of the sanctuary. The stories in these six windows begin with the announcement of His coming birth and concludes with Jesus returning to be with His Father in heaven. graders, plus the Texas National Guard with a helicopter Chinook equipped to fight fires. Also, the Texas Department of Transportation has sent crews to help with road closures and deliver fuel for fire fighters. The Department of Public Safety has troopers assisting with traffic control and closures, the Texas Emergency Medical Task Force is sending paramedics and ambulances. Public services will also be available to help with agriculture and livestock needs.

The Texas A&M Forest Service Tuesday at noon reported wildfires of 11.4 acres in Newton County, plus 33 acres burning in Nacogdoches County and 7.7 acres on fire in Angelina County.

This past weekend, the U.S. Weather Service in Lake Charles warned of fire hazards because of low humidity and strong winds combined with dry winter vegetation. The danger decreased some on Monday as clouds moved in and raised the humidity, though winds remained gusty.

A slight chance of rain was in the forecast for Wednesday with higher chances of rain on Thursday night into Friday as a cold front comes through. Still, winds and gusts of 25 to 30 mph are forecast. If a cigarette butt or spark hits dry vegetation, a fire could start and spread because of the winds. Orange County, though, is not under a burn ban.

Residents in Hemphill County, were initially told to evacuate as the Smokehouse Creek fire - the largest of the four spread and burned more than 200,000 acres within a day. As firefighters worked to contain the fire in Canadian, about 100 miles northeast of Amarillo, evacuation efforts hit a snag as the main roadway was blocked by the fire.

Shortly after the mandatory order was announced, the Hemphill County Sheriff's Office shared on social media that Highway 60/83 was shut down. The sheriff's office instructed residents to go to the gym at Canadian High School to shelter in place.

"Having them all in one place is the safest option at this time," said Stephanie Purcell, a representative for the sheriff's office. Purcell said the wind could possibly push the fire towards Highway 33 in Canadian as well.

"There were earlier evacuation orders, but it got to the point where the fire was close enough that it was no longer safe to travel on those roads," said Kari Hines, a public information officer for Texas A&M Forest Service. "It's safer to stay inside structures, at least while the main body of the fire passes."

Hines said crews have responded from across the state and are working in long shifts to contain the fire before taking breaks to rest. With a cold front coming in, Hines said firefighters are preparing for another shift in the winds that might move the fire further.

WHY PHELAN SHOULD BE SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE

One of the three most powerful political positions in Texas is on the line. It is more important to House District 21, in Southeast Texas because that is the district the powerful Speaker of the House of Representatives is from. It is the first time in Southeast Texas history that our little part of Texas has had such a strong hand in the governing of Texas. Speaker Dade Phelan is a true southeast Texan; his roots are deep in the Beaumont area. He is one of us. He is a great asset for us in Austin. Ten million is being spent to take the leadership out of Southeast Texas. A small group, headed by Midland billionaire Tim Dunn, a West Texas oilman who has built a political machine along with his allies who control the most powerful seats in the state and now want control of the Texas House. The only way to do that is to defeat Phelan or enough of his core supporters in the House. Dunn and allies provide the cash and access to political consultant's operations that can be used to spread false attacks on their targets through glossy mailers and television commercials. Someone who is not well known in the community and tell him we're going to make you a star. The person has no idea what he is getting into. He has no platform and has no say. Dunn and his group call all the shots; their candidate is just their stooge. If he's elected he goes to the House as a freshman. The power, which includes Paxton and Patrick, will then fulfill Dunn's wish with a speaker of his choice. Former Texas Governor Rick Perry said in a Enterprise commentary, "It is disheartening to see the political discourse surrounding this primary with outside interest spending millions." The attacks against Phelan are from folks who don't know the first thing about Southeast Texas' needs. These outsiders want Dade out so they can take control of the Texas House and District 21 for themselves. Perry continued, "Use your vote to send a message that Southeast Texas is not for sale." Phelan is the real deal not someone off the street with no experience. Dade is real accessible to the public officials and citizens of Orange County with an office on 16th. St. The only way the outside forces can destroy him and take the speakership away is for the voters of Southeast Texas to turn against Dade Phelan. Despite all the money and the trash being thrown at him it's not likely that the local voters will give up this first in a lifetime leadership to return to the little forgotten part of Texas. For the continued good of Southeast Texas, vote to keep Dade Phelan Speaker of the Texas House. Remember it always get down to who you know in Austin.

NATION TRULY AT CROSSROADS

In November comes the General Elections where the big apple will be the presidential race. That race could be the most important race in my lifetime and quite possibly my last. My first one goes back to Ike, in 1952. Our democracy is the worlds best but for the first time in our history we are at the edge of going over the cliff and throwing away all the great gains our country has made. This country has had some rocky roads throughout these years from using mules to haul goods to many of our young dying to keep us free, all guided by a strong constitution. Our biggest blow to the fiber of the union came on January 6, 2021 when our Capital, Democracy and Constitution were attacked from within by its sitting president who led an insurgent against his own government in an attempt to overthrow the results of our fair, national election, won by his opponent by over seven-million votes. Donald Trump tells us every day what his plans are for our democracy. If successful in the next election in November our children, grandchildren and great, great, great will never get to live with the same freedoms and laws that have guided this great country. Make no mistake about it, everyday Trump works to dismantle the Grand Old Party of Ike, Reagan, Sen. Bob Dole and one of our greatest heroes Sen. John McCain. In its place, Trump wants to install his own type of government which would be more reflective of a dictatorship. His relationship with Russian President Putin could be very profitable to him but dangerous for our country. This would be an end to this great democracy and also to the two party Republican and Democratic system. One man rules all is what Trump is pushing, along with a barrage of daily untruths. That's my thoughts as I think about the future of my country that I love and has been so good to me and mine.. We are really at the Cross-roads.

ACTIONS NOT WORDS

The following is from Lydia Damrel, one of the smartest, most reliable, and most dedicated conservatives to serve the people of Orange County:

"I have worked with the Orange County Republican Party of Texas since 1978, yes 46 years. There have been several Orange County Republican chairmen, including me - TWICE! Cheryl is an asset and incredible worker, she has: recruited conservatives who now serve as precinct chairs, provided classes and training for new party attendees, knocked on doors, and organized and built active coalitions within Orange County and with our neighboring counties. She has already performed the chair's duties unlike our present chair. He has fought her at every turn, and only recently recruited opponents for our hard working precinct chairs, some of those he recruited have never darkened the door of the Republican Headquarters and have no interest in party activities. He simply seeks to destroy the conservatives that voted to censure Dade Phelan. Save your local conservative Orange County Republican Party of Texas by voting for Cheryl Warren for Republican County Chair and your present Republican Precinct chairs, you will be glad you did."

Keep Orange County Moving Foward Re-Elect Sheriff Jimmy Lane Mooney

Sheriff Jimmy Lane Mooney was chosen by the Orange County residents four years ago. Since then, he has steadfastly upheld every commitment, demonstrating dedication and making tough choices when necessary. Recognizing the sheriff's department's critical management role, he treats it as a business rather than seeking mere popularity. In these perilous times, we cannot risk entrusting someone without a proven track record to safeguard our safety. We must support our sheriff, confident that he will prioritize the welfare of all Orange County citizens. With promises fulfilled and actions taken, let's continue propelling Orange County towards progress.

- The only sheriff that is born and raised in Orange County.
- One of two candidates that has worked in Orange County
- Endorsed by the Orange County Sheriff's Employees Association.
- 35 years of law enforcement experience, 27 years with Orange County agencies.
- The only candidate that has sheriff experience
- Been through years of community disasters and stood firm as a leader.
- Reduced property crimes in rural areas by 33%
- Reduced overall crime rates in rural areas by 7%
- 0 deaths in our jails.
- 2 ratified union contracts to give stability to the Orange County Sheriff's office employees.
- Increased active shooter training and SWAT training for our officers.
- Increased equipment for deputies without costing taxpayers money.
- Never had go back to commissioner's court and ask for the budget to be increased.
- Saved tax payors an excess of $500,000 by using drug asset forfeiture money.
- Reopened unutilized rural substations.

A Sheriff for the Community

Sheriff Jimmy Lane Mooney of the Orange County Sheriff's Department is more than just a law enforcement officer; he is a dedicated steward of community well-being. His deep involvement in community affairs has not only fostered trust but has also made Orange County a safer and more vibrant place to live.

Sheriff Mooney's commitment to community engagement was recently highlighted during a collaborative effort involving multiple law enforcement agencies to apprehend suspects near Deweyville High School. His department's swift action, alongside other agencies, ensured the safety of students and faculty, demonstrating Sheriff Mooney's proactive approach to safeguarding the community.

Beyond law enforcement operations, Sheriff Mooney has been instrumental in driving positive change throughout Orange County. Under his leadership, the community has seen a remarkable reduction in property crime by 33% and an overall decrease in crime by 7%. His decision to reopen substations in key areas like Vidor and Mauriceville has not only improved response times but has also fostered stronger ties between deputies and residents.

Sheriff Mooney's involvement extends beyond crime prevention. He has been a consistent presence during times of crisis, leading rescue efforts during natural disasters like Hurricanes Harvey and Imelda. His hands-on approach to community service has earned him the trust and admiration of Orange County residents.

Moreover, Sheriff Mooney has spearheaded initiatives to support mental health access in the jail, donated resources to law enforcement, and championed community projects such as the "Hope House." These endeavors reflect his deep-rooted commitment to addressing not only law enforcement challenges but also broader social issues affecting the community.

In Sheriff Jimmy Lane Mooney, Orange County has found a dedicated servant leader who prioritizes community well-being above all else. His tireless efforts to engage, protect, and uplift the community serve as a testament to his unwavering dedication to Orange County and its residents.

Lemoine's jersey retired during BC tournament

DAN PERRINE Orange County Sports For The Record

Baseball and softball tournaments were conducted the last weekend of February for Orange County teams. The local teams got their first good opportunity to show what they have for the season ahead.

The Bridge Cardinal Invitational was held Thursday through Saturday at Chuck Young Field. Eight teams each played four games over the three day baseball tournament.

The highlight of the tournament was Friday night with the retiring of Cardinal great Jake Lemoine's jersey in a special ceremony. Lemoine graduated from Bridge City High School in 2012 following his outstanding career as a pitcher.

After pitching for the University of Houston in college Lemoine was drafted by the Texas Rangers in 2015. Seven in their tournament. years later Jake was selected by the Oakland Athletics, and during the 2022 season he made his debut in the major leagues.

Jake Lemoine is the first Bridge City graduate to ever play baseball in the big leagues. His Cardinal number 18 will never be used again, and a big red sign now hangs on the left field fence at Chuck Young Field with Lemoine's name and number on it.

The best game of the tournament was played following the ceremony honoring Lemoine. Bridge

City rallied from seven runs down against Orangefield to win 8-7 on a two out walk off bases loaded triple by Hutch Bearden.

The Cardinals went 3-1 Bridge City won on Thursday 5-3 over Buna before losing 6-3 to Hamshire-Fannett on Friday night prior to Lemoine being honored. The Cardinals blasted Mount Vernon 13-3 on Saturday morning helped by a first inning grand slam from John Van Huis.

The Orangefield Bobcats lost to Nederland, Bridge City, and Port Neches-Groves in their first three games but closed with a resounding

LCM Bears work on improvements

DAN PERRINE Orange County Sports For The Record

The Little Cypress Mauriceville Bears were young in 2023 and just missed making the playoffs. With another year under their belts the Bears are prepared to make a run at the post season this campaign.

The opportunity to make the playoffs last year for LCM came down to the last week of district action as the Bears needed to sweep their two games with the Silsbee Tigers. That did not happen so Little Cypress Mauriceville stayed home when the post season began.

Coach Hunter Hagler of the Little Cypress Mauriceville Bears baseball team.

Hagler recapped last season. "I think last year we left a lot of things on the table. We will hopefully learn from last year. We had some Bears that got to play, and we were excited for them. We are working to get better ev-Bears' Coach Hunter ery day," Hagler evaluated.

Because Little Cypress Mauriceville was young last season there is a large group of Bears with experience for this year. Coach Hagler is counting on returning lettermen to lead the team in 2024.

Parker Seago returns at shortstop and on the mound for the Bears. Seago batted in the leadoff position last season, but may be moved to the middle of the batting order.

A key batter that is back is Marco Bandiero who was the offensive most valuable player for the Bears. Bandiero plays first base.

Justin McCarver returns as the Bears' catcher. Parker Freeman was primarily the designated hitter for LCM, but will see time at the corner infield positions as well this season.

Landon Richards will play at third base when he is not on the mound pitching. Hagler com-mented, "Landon was one of our starters last year throughout district. He's a guy we're looking kind of to lean on a little bit on the mound this year."

Other starters back from last year are Clay Raney and Ethan Fry. "We're returning a lot of Bears, and what's nice is when you have guys that you start to see that youth like we had start to ma-

Steady progress is being made in the rebuilding of the West Orange-Stark baseball program back to what it was less than a decade ago. More improvement is expected this year from the Mustang diamond devotees.

Last year in preseason West Orange-Stark won several games in tournament action. The Mustangs were winless though in the very competitive District 19-4A against teams filled with players that participate in select baseball leagues throughout the year.

Can Orange County Afford to Elect a Sheriff That Stays in the Background?

Why is the former sheriff's regime and others endorsing a candidate when that endorsement is based on lies, accusations, innduendos, and non factual informations? Are we honestly considering reverting to the era of shady deals and zero accountability within our sheriff's office?

Do we want to go back to the days where Orange County sheriffs made headlines for going to prison, being fined for falsifying reports and tampering with odometers under their direction. numerous deaths in the iail. or sheriffs making headlines for lawsuits?

Do we want to return to a time when deputies faced no disciplinary actions? Instances such as a lieutenant/supervisor shooting at a neighbor's residence, or a deputy deploying a taser on an individual already in handcuffs and making racial slurs, prompting intervention by the NAACP?

Do we genuinely want a sheriff who's completely out of touch with our community, doesn't understand a thing about Orange County, and has allowed animosity to fracture long-standing friendships?

Do we really want a sheriff who assembled a team to investigate the Uvalde School shooting, only for that team to fail in their investigation as noted by the DOJ? Shouldn't we be concerned about entrusting leadership to someone who couldn't effectively handle such a critical situation?

It's crucial to consider the implications of placing our faith in a sheriff who demonstrates incompetence in handling urgent matters of public safety.

Vote for a Sheriff Who Votes!

Voting is like fuel for our democracy. It's the way we express our voice and steer the direction of our country.

Let's talk about Bobby Smith, who's running for sheriff. He's knocking on doors, shaking hands, and asking for your vote. But then he turns around and doesn't think voting is all that important. It's like saying, "Hey, I want your support, but I'm not really bothered about the system that lets you elect me as sheriff."

And think about our troops overseas. They're out there, fighting to protect our freedoms, including the right to vote. They're making sacrifices so that we can have a say in how our country is run. When someone doesn't vote, it's like saying their sacrifice doesn't matter. It's like shrugging off the efforts of those who fought and died for our right to have a voice.

Our servicemen and women rely on us to elect capable leaders who understand the impact of their decisions. The chaos at home and abroad underscores this urgency: the White House administration struggles with crises, including the Ukraine conflict and Middle East tensions, while our borders remain open. When an American decides not to exercise their right to vote, they're essentially casting a silent ballot for the current president and accepting the status quo, despite the potential consequences for our nation and the world.

Voting isn't just a right; it's a responsibility. It's how we make sure our leaders represent us and our values. So when Bobby Smith asks for your vote but brushes off the importance of voting, remember this: Every vote counts, and it's a way to honor those who've fought for our freedom.

Young Cardinals compete in a tough baseball district

DAN PERRINE Orange County Sports For The Record

Bridge City baseball had a good year in 2023. The Cardinals will be younger this season, but have a good group of ball players that should carry them to another successful season this year.

The Bridge City Cardinals finished last season with 25 wins which is the most for them in quite a few seasons. Huffman proved to be a tough opponent in the second round of the state playoffs, and the Cardinals were eliminated in a competitive three game series.

Cardinal Coach Chad Landry said Bridge City has a core group of veterans with a bunch of younger Cardinals who want to learn. "Last year was a good year. We got a lot of guys some experience. We had a lot of seniors though, losing thirteen or fourteen to graduation. Replacing those guys for this year has been our top priority because that was a lot of experience, a lot of depth. This season has been a been a big learning curve so far with so many new Cardinals, but we're excited and it is good to have some young guys that we can go back to coaching a little bit of the basic stuff. The environment is good, the atmosphere is good, and we're excited about it," Landry expressed.

There are six seniors on the Bridge City varsity and three of those have been starters multiple years. John Van Huis is a four year starter in centerfield, Landon Reeves is also a four year starter at multiple positions, and Aidyn Mulhollan is a three year starter as a pitcher and infielder.

Coach Chad Landry of the Bridge City Cardinals baseball team.

Landry praised, "Those three seniors have played a lot of games. They've experienced a lot, they've seen a lot, they know how it works. We count on those guys to really produce for us, to lead for us, and to really show our younger Cardinals how we would like to do things."

Outfielder Gavin Bodin is a senior who has been playing well. Another senior Lorn Little is a first baseman who can hit the baseball a long way.

Brayton Tregre is the sixth senior on the Bridge City varsity. "Brayton is a great teammate. He's a guy that every program needs. In fact we're going to throw him on the mound a little bit this year. He's done a great job in the scrimmages early so could be a guy to eat up some innings for us and I look forward to seeing that," Landry described Tregre.

The sophomore class at Bridge City is a large group and is the biggest class since Landry came here in 2009. Twenty-three altogether are in the baseball program with at least eight on the varsity which makes up the majority of the Cardinal pitching staff.

Austin Frederick, Hunter Ford, and CJ Riojas were three sophomores who saw playing time as freshmen. Brady Havard, Max Pachar, and Owen Tucker will definitely see playing time this season.

Landry elaborated, "All these guys are going to have to play for us. They're going to have to learn, they're going to have to get after it, and they have all the talent in the world. They're great players. We've just got to get them a little more experience." "Our under level guys, our young guys, are extremely eager to learn. It doesn't matter what we throw at them every day in practice they're right there they're ready to take it. They're absorbing it. Coach Elmer Laird and Coach Shea Landry have done a great job. We threw the book at the new kids on day one knowing they wouldn't get it all, but this is what it takes. The young Cardinals want to do it, they want to be here, they want to represent our program, and the interlocking "B C" that is on their hats," Landry added.

Hitting should be a positive aspect for Bridge City this season. The Cardinal lineup is very balanced with guys that can put balls in play.

Coach Chad Landry evaluated, "We really like our team speed overall. We can run. We're extremely athletic starting with Hutch Bearden. When Hutch is on the baseball field he's flying, it is impressive to watch how well he moves on the baseball field."

The Little Cypress Mauriceville Lady Bears won five of the six games they played in the Sweeney tournament.

The West Orange-Stark Mustangs played four games in the Kountze tournament. The Mustangs dropped all their games but played a close one with Hemphill before losing 7-4 on Saturday.

Softball Action

There were three girls softball tournaments over the weekend. Orangefield and Bridge City traveled to Port Neches-Groves, Little Cypress Mauriceville went to Sweeney, and West Orange-Stark played at home in its own tournament.

The Orangefield Lady

Bobcats, and Hallee Becker scored four runs in the two games combined.

Orangefield defeated Lumberton 6-1 and tied Hamshire-Fannett 1-1 on Friday. Sanches got the win surrendering no earned runs to Lumberton and struck out six. Hallee Becker was a leader at the plate with three hits and three runs scored. Abigail Curphey pitched a good game yielding just one run and striking out seven against Hamshire-Fannett in the tie.

6-0 on two hits. Curphey threw a one hitter shutting out Bridge City 2-0. Haylee Spears and Aubree Beck drove in the two runs for Orangefield which improved to 8-4-1 on the season.

Bridge City completed the tournament at PN-G with three shutouts by its pitchers. Cardinal pitching ace Carson Fall threw two no hitters during the tournament. After a 6-6 tie with Anahuac on Thursday morning Fall threw the first of her no hitters 3-0 against Hamshire-Fannett. The second no hitter followed on Friday with Lumberton falling 7-0. Port Neches-Groves could do no better as they were shutout 6-0 by Bridge City. Only Orangefield could beat Bridge City over the weekend.

Little Cypress Mauriceville won five of its six games at Sweeney. The Lady Bears took two games on Thursday, won both games on Friday, before splitting their two games on Saturday.

The two LCM pitchers Ella Stephenson and Tessa Erickson pitched well in the tournament. Lexis Moss hit three homeruns including a grand slam on Saturday and Jacelyn Cook cranked a homer on Thursday.

West Orange-Stark went 2-3 at its own tournament. The Lady Mustangs got a decisive 16-5 win over Beaumont Kelly on Thursday and edged Port Arthur Memorial 7-6 on Friday.

The local tournament this week will be the Certa-Bearden WOS Classic at West Orange-Stark. The Mustangs will play four games over the three day tournament while Orangefield and Little Cypress Mauriceville play each other on Thursday afternoon and Orangefield has another game scheduled on Saturday afternoon at Ronnie Anderson Park.

Bobcats hope to make extended run post season

DAN PERRINE Orange County Sports For The Record

Baseball has been very good at Orangefield the last several years. The prospects are high for another banner year on the diamond for the Bobcats this season.

In 2023 Orangefield played a tough non-district schedule that got the Bobcats ready for district which carried over into the playoffs. At one stretch the Bobcats won a remarkable 23 games in a row.

Coach Tim Erickson reflected on the performance of his Bobcats last year. "That win streak was big for our program. We made a pretty good run in the playoffs, we just ran into a really tough Central Heights team in the third round. Hopefully, we get an opportunity to face those guys again, and I know the kids are looking forward to it. It was a good season overall," Erickson replied.

Twelve seniors return from the district championship team last season for the Bobcats. This is the biggest senior class the coach has had since he came to Orangefield.

Centerfield will be covered by Kane Smith when the basketball playoffs come to a conclusion for the Bobcats. Smith is also the leadoff hitter in the Orangefield batting order. Erickson reminded, "Kane was an all-state player for us last year."

Brycen Tait will lead the Bobcat pitching staff. Tait won nine games as a solid reliable pitcher last season, and Erickson expects the same thing again from Brycen.

The Orangefield infield will have three familiar faces. Matthew Johnson returns at third base and should make some big strides as a sophomore. Caleb Fregia is running things at shortstop with three years on the varsity after moving to shortstop last year from second base.

Coach Tim Erickson of the Orangefield Bobcats baseball team.

the scrimmages and should hold down that position really well," Erickson predicted.

Joining Kane Smith in the outfield will be Cameron Dearing in left field. Dearing was a part time starter last year and was a big contributor for the Bobcats. In right field Logan Cheek has a solid bat, is a really good fielder, and a lot is expected from him.

With so many returners there are not very many holes to fill for Coach Erickson. Catching is the big one with Carson Worthy the prime candidate to be behind the plate for the bulk of the Bobcat games this season.

Erickson elaborated, "Carson caught every game on junior varsity last season and worked hard over the summer. He is fitting right in during the scrimmages doing really well, we're impressed with what he's done."

Kaleb Menard is another Bobcat who was brought up to the varsity for the playoffs last year. Menard played mostly on the junior varsity as a freshman, but is expected to be a big impact guy now as a sophomore at the plate and on the mound for Orangefield.

Kyler Green is a utility infielder who can fill in when one of the normal Bobcat starters is called on to pitch. Green also does a great job on the base paths according to Erickson.

Orangefield with its large group of seniors and returning lettermen there is a whole lineup of Bobcat hitters that can handle the bat. "We're going to limit strikeouts, we're going to have good at bats with guys that just know how to play the game because they've been in the system for three or four years now. I think top to bottom we're going to be making strides to drive runs in by hitting balls in the gaps. Logan Cheek drove in runs last year and is being counted on to repeat that this year. Kaleb Menard is another Bobcat that should really produce a lot of runs and take advantage of what his teammates in the lineup are doing to get on base while putting themselves in scoring position.

Kyle Michael has been a top hitter for Orangefield the last three seasons and is working hard through rehab to be able to get the injured knee in shape for him to at least be able to swing the bat. Erickson informed, "Our goal is for the second round of district for Kyle to come back and designate hit. I think he will be there, no question. Kyle's working hard doing everything he has to do. Just to have him back in the lineup will be a big plus for the Bobcats."

Pitching has been a strength for Orangefield during Coach Erickson's tenure. This season should be no different with several arms the coach can call on to deliver on the mound.

The number one pitcher and leader of the pitching staff should be Brycen Tait. "We expect him to get the Colton Myers was used as a fi reliever during the previous buseason and is expected to during the second during the seco phase of the schedule.

Kaleb Menard could be the kind of pitcher who can beat any opponent he throws against. Erickson believes it is going to take Kaleb getting on the mound and getting comfortable so he can throw pitches around the strike zone.

Other Bobcats have been used in the early scrimmages. Erickson indicated, "Camden Fountain, Matthew Johnson, even Caleb Fregia have thrown a little just to give us some options when we get into these four game tournaments, or down the road when we're going to need somebody to step up to get on the mound."

The baseball program at Orangefield has become one of the most consistent winning teams in this area. Coach Erickson talked to his varsity players the third week of February about their goals for this season.

Adam Tran is back at second base where he started last season.

Camden Fountain will play first base while Kyle Michael an all-stater last year is recuperating from a knee injury suffered during the football season. "Camden is a guy we can play anywhere on the field but catcher, so he has stepped into the first base spot and really done well through promised. Big hitters should include Matthew Johnson who is

majority of the innings. We know he's going to give us quality starts when he goes out there. Brycen really knows how to pitch, he's going to give us a chance to win every time he's on the mound," Erickson praised. Several other Orangefield pitchers are coming back. Garrett Rawls is in basketball, but when the playoffs conclude he will be a big addition with his strong arm.

Bridge City may not hit a ton of homeruns. The Cardinals have gravitated towards it is okay to put the ball on the ground with their bats because they have the speed to beat out grounders and to help move runners over a base. "The more that we do that the better we're going to be. Our offense has morphed into contact driven, small ball driven, athletic driven, and to get on base to score runs" Landry confirmed.

The Cardinal offense starts with leadoff batter John Van Huis. "John has been a leadoff guy for multiple years. I like describing John as he's not great at anything, but he is really, really good at everything. John's a baseball player every team wants at the top of their lineup. It is great to see him develop into the player and leader that he is today," Landry responded.

Pitching is a key to any team's success especially in a tough district like 19-4A where Bridge City competes. Through the early scrimmages a couple Cardinal pitchers have estab-

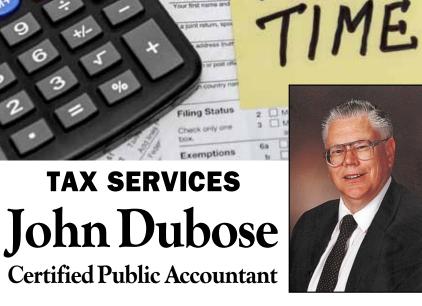

The coach predicted lished themselves as the ridge City may not hit a two aces of the staff.

Aidyn Mulhollan is the number one starter for Bridge City. Landry and the coaches rested Aidyn in the fall, have slowly brought him back, he is healthy now, and pitched very well in a game against one of the top teams in Louisiana.

The number two pitcher will be Landon Reeves who will move into more of a starter's role after serving as a relief specialist last year. Young arms include Brady Havard, Max Pachar, Owen Tucker, and Trey Goodwin who all will see time on the hill for Bridge City.

The Cardinals will compete in a tough district with Little Cypress Mauriceville which had a very young team in 2023 expected to rebound this year. "We feel like the Bears will be one of the top teams to beat in the district because they are loaded with arms and talent.

"Lumberton has their two arms back. It's a dogfight, it's a battle, it's stressful. We love to compete. It's going to be a tough test for us with so many young guys, but we want to get cranked up," Landry concluded.

to coach and try to show the kids how to do it the right way fundamentally, the Mustangs are learning the game, they're learning how to play the game, and things are getting better but it's just taking time," Espinal confirmed.

Improvement over the last couple of seasons could carry over to this vear. Espinal explained, "I think the biggest improvement this year that we'll see is probably our outfield. Christian Anderson, William Lee, and Cortez Robertson have good range, good fundamentals, and they have been working so hard. I think our top three outfielders who are all seniors have been doing a pretty good job. We went through our struggles three years ago with them, so this year they are putting the pieces together and they should all have an outstanding season."

Lee played summer baseball and continues to work out taking baseball more seriously. Espinal indicated, "William is looking forward to going to college on a baseball scholarship. I think he's got the opportunity to do it, and he's got the ability to do it. It's just a matter of time and if he turns it on to have a great year this season."

The two best returning Mustangs are both sophomores. Diego Ibarra and Noah Robles were leaders when they were freshmen last year so more is expected in their second seasons on the West Orange-Stark varsity.

Ibarra was the leader on the mound last year for WOS which makes him a key pitcher again this season and will play first base when he is not pitching. "Diego's got a good stick, and I know he's got better so he should contribute for the Mustangs tremendously," Espinal stated.

Robles has a lot of tools whether on the mound, in the infield, or at the plate. Espinal believes, "Noah should really help us in every possible way. He's a pitcher, a shortstop, an infielder, I can put him anywhere, and he swings the bat pretty well."

Senior Zach Nation is one of the team leaders. "Zach grew, got taller, got smarter, got a little stronger, so we look forward to having Zach as one of our leaders and contributors to our baseball program this year," Espinal praised.

Whether it is behind the plate as the catcher or on the mound as a pitcher Grayson Gregory of the Mustangs will be a factor for the ball club. Espinal evaluated, "Grayson has shown some sparks of getting better, and he's made some improvements. He has to continue to improve because as our catcher he has to be the leader on the field."

The are some new Mustangs who will play on the varsity for Coach Espinal. Blade Williams is a sophomore moving up from the junior varsity last season. "He's grown to a good size, right handed hitter, that plays first base and third base, will also pitch a little bit, swings the bat pretty good, also learning the game, but Blade has got a lot of potential and ability," Espinal described.

Another new face on the baseball diamond is Marcus Turner. WOS fans know Turner as the starting quarterback on the Mustang varsity football team. Turner wants to learn baseball, so things are looking good.

ture which is exciting," Hagler observed.

There will be a few Bears moving on to the Little Cypress Mauriceville varsity this season. Brice Frenzel pitched a little in the scrimmages and tournaments last year. Hagler indicated, "We're hoping Brice can pitch a lot for us this year. He's playing a little bit of right field as well and hitting in the middle of the batting order."

Freshman Jacob Scheiderer has already seen a number of innings in left field during the early Bear scrimmages, and had an impressive pitching debut. "Jacob got two or three innings the other night. He came in to shut down a bases loaded jam and pitched two and two third innings with eight strikeouts in his first pitching outing as a freshman," Hagler reminded. Scheiderer had two hits in that same game.

Hitting has traditionally been an asset for Little Cypress Mauriceville. With the number of returning lettermen the Bears should have some big bats in their lineup again this season.

Hagler analyzed, "Right now I think up and down we are right there. Early in the season the hitters kind of miss a barrel here or miss a barrel there which in two or three weeks that same guy is going to square up and you know it from just seeing him do it before."

The coach identified the expected leaders with the bat for the Bears. "Bandiero is definitely a guy that can swing it. Seago is another guy that is going to swing it really well, always has and always will. Freeman is a big body who can lose one every now and the too, and he's going to find McCarver has barrels. been hitting in the two hole through the scrimmages into the early games, and he's basically doing whatever you need the two hole to do whether it's bunt to help move runners, drive guys in, see a lot of pitches, and different stuff like that. Justin is doing a really good job at doing it," Hagler praised.

"I think once you find some continuity and guys start realizing what their role is you can start to see a little bit of that flow in a lineup. We really started to see that in the game last night which is really excit-

In that game the Bears put eleven runs on the board. LCM had runners scoring position in throughout the game and only left one runner on base.

The pitching staff for Little Cypress Mauriceville has more than half a dozen good arms that Hagler can put on the mound. Hagler elaborated, "Honestly, right now there are six Bears I can think of that I wouldn't be afraid to throw out there at any point and time. There are two more guys who in a jam could potentially go out there too when we're deeper in tournaments."

Landon Richards tops the list of Bear pitchers. "I think he's going to be a guy who really shocks a lot of people this year building off what he did last year. Landon gained that experience and then figured out who he really is on the mound which is really exciting," Hagler ex-

Marco Bandiero was not able to pitch last year because of some arm trouble after being a regular on the mound the year before. Hagler is excited to see Marco get back on the hill this season as he can throw it with the best of the Bear pitchers.

Another Bear who will get innings in any situation is Parker Seago. Brice Frenzel and Parker Freeman will also play bigger roles for the LCM pitching staff this season. Not to be overlooked is freshman Jacob Scheiderer who every outing has just built on what he has done previously.

Hagler reiterated, "Six guys that we really aren't scared to throw at anybody at any point and time in a game. We're excited about the staff where they are, how they developed, and we're looking forward to the season."

Coach Hagler is not going to look too far down the road for the Little Cypress Mauriceville Bears. He insisted on taking this year one day at a time, but does feel the team is moving in the right direction which has him excited about the new season.

"I think anybody that throws out any prediction this early in a season might look back later and hoped they didn't. We're just taking it one day at a time trying to get better every single day, learning who we are, continuing to grow, continuing to mature, and then just learning what to expect out of each other every single day on a daily basis," Hagler concluded.

ing," Hagler added. plained.
